MINISTER TELLS HOUSE:

Ottawa May Develop Tar Sands

INCLUDES RETIRED PERSONS

Jobless Men 16-70 Must Register Every 2 Weeks

OTTAWA, May 20.—(CP)—Compulsory registration of practically all men between the ages of 16 and 70 who are not gainfully employed has been ordered, Elliott M. Little, director of national selective service, announced today.

Mr. Little told a press conference that the registration will be carried out through unemployment insurance offices in areas where such offices are located, and through post offices in other places.

Men affected by the order must register within one week after May 31, and must continue to register once every two weeks.

FEW EXCEPTIONS

The registration included retired persons. The only exceptions to the order are students—regular attendants at schools, colleges or universities; scientific or technical personnel; and men confined to penitentiaries, asylums or hospitals.

The registration will provide national selective service officials with a progressive record of men not now holding jobs who may be considered available to help meet the expanding labor requirements of wartime Canada.

Gainfully-employed persons already have been registered through the unemployment insurance offices across Canada.

"We are approaching a tight labor situation and labor shortages are reported from many sections of Canada," Mr. Little told the newspapermen, "yet we are aware that there are still unemployed men in this country.

"At present we do not know how many unemployed there are, how many of them are unemployable.

Killam Farmer Found: Foster Son Arrested

Eli C. Morgan, Killam farmer who mysteriously disappeared eight days ago, has been found dead, and his 18-year-old foster son, Bruce, has been arrested, according to word received by the R.C.M.P. headquarters here Wednesday morning.

The discovery of Morgan's body was made Tuesday afternoon. It was found in his field buried about two feet below the surface. Bruce Ingold, the foster son, is being held for questioning by the Hardisty detachment, R.C.M.P. It is believed that Morgan was shot and his body buried, after which his assailant burned the weapon.

DISAPPEARED MAY 11

Morgan disappeared at about 10:30 p.m. of May 11, at about the same time that the shack on the section of land, on which Morgan and his foster son were working, was destroyed by fire.

A thorough search of the ruins the following day failed to reveal any clue to Morgan's disappearance, except that a .22 calibre rifle, containing an empty shell, was found in the debris.

At about 3 p.m. Tuesday, Ingold suddenly disappeared. He was found hiding in a straw stack some distance away last Wednesday, and has since then been under R.C.M.P. surveillance. He was arrested, with the charge pending, after Morgan's body was discovered Tuesday afternoon.

BODY FOUND

Morgan's body was found face down in the plowed field some distance from the scene of the fire.

Dr. H. S. Shirreffs, coroner, Daysland, arrived at Killam Tuesday night to name an inquest jury, and then ordered indefinite postponement of the hearing. The post mortem examination will be held at Killam with Dr. John Macgregor, University of Alberta pathologist, in charge.

According to Dr. Shirreffs there was a gunshot wound on the right side of the body, "probably" caused by a rifle. He said, however, that a post mortem examination would be required before a definite conclusion as to the nature of the wound could be reached. Dr. Macgregor left for Killam early Wednesday.

British Submarine Reports Successes

ROME (From Italian Broadcasts), May 20.—(AP)—The Italian high command announced the loss of an Italian submarine today, saying it had failed to return to its base.

Bombing Reich Is Best Method To Help Russia

By DOUGLAS AMARON

LONDON, May 20.—(CP)—Bombing Germany is the best way of assisting Russia "until such time as we are able to make a carefully-planned attack upon the continent of Europe, which we intend to do," Sir Stafford Cripps told the house of commons today.

Answering criticism in the second day of a war debate in which Prime Minister Churchill is not participating, Sir Stafford, who is government leader in the house, declared the government is ready to face a vote of confidence if "any substantial body of members" desired it.

Leslie Hore-Belisha, former war secretary and a critic of the war leadership, urged establishment of a separate ministry of defence, which now is under Mr. Churchill.

CHURCHILL EXPERIENCED

"The war cabinet desires to have the advice of a first-class defence minister, and there is no one with wider and long experience of defence problems than the Prime Minister," replied Sir Stafford.

To repeated assertions that Mr. Churchill dominated the government and even appeared to hypnotise others, Sir Stafford replied that "the Prime Minister as minister of defence, submits to control of the cabinet just as other ministers do in their sphere of activity."

Mr. Hore-Belisha conceded that the government should not be "hounded into opening a western front against Germany," saying that would be perhaps "the biggest undertaking in British military history, and worse than not undertaking it would be to undertake it and fail."

DEFENDS PREMIER

Defending Mr. Churchill's conduct of the war, A. P. Herbert told the house that members who spoke of "disaster after disaster" had painted a one-sided picture.

"The man responsible for Hong

Quebec Liberal Urges Canada Quit Empire

MONTREAL, May 20.—(CP)—Rene Chaloult, Liberal member of the Quebec legislative assembly for Lotbiniere, told an anti-conscription rally here last night that he "hopes Canada will resolutely break away from the British Empire as soon as the war is over and will become a member of a Pan-American union." About 1,500 attended the rally.

Mr. Chaloult said that reactions against enforced conscription for overseas service might very well become a death blow to the Confederation pact. Pledge against conscription for overseas service was obviously given to French Canada, he added, and the French-Canadians almost unanimously refused to release the government; they want to "follow Britain's example and keep our soldiers home to defend our own territory."

Maxime Raymond, Liberal member of parliament for Beauharnois-Laprairie, and Jean-Francois Pouliot, Liberal member of parliament for Temiscouata, also addressed the meeting held at St. James marke' and supported Mr. Chaloult's assertions against conscription for overseas service.

Mr. Pouliot said that "had the St. Lawrence sinkings occurred a few weeks earlier—a few days before April 27—the whole country would have voted differently in the plebiscite."

Vichy Consulates Close In Dominion

OTTAWA, May 20. — (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today the government had requested that French consulate offices and agencies in Canada be closed.

There are four French consulate offices in Canada located at Vancouver, Winnipeg, Montreal and Quebec, Mr. King said. Consulate agencies are located at Halifax, Toronto, Edmonton and Calgary.

Present conditions had reduced the duties of these offices and agencies and they rendered little service. They had become the subject of suspicion and it was thought advisable to ask the French minister (Rene Ristelhueber) to take the necessary action to suspend their operation, the prime minister said.

Air Vice-Marshal Will Speak Tonight On R.C.A.F.'s Work

OTTAWA, May 20.—(CP)—Air Vice-Marshal Harold A. Edwards, Air Officer in Chief of the Royal Canadian Air Force overseas, will answer "all the things Canadians want to know" about Dominion airmen overseas in a radio address tonight, an Air Force spokesman said. The talk will be heard on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's western network from 5:45 to 6 p.m. M.D.T. Air Vice-Marshal Edwards is here for the Ottawa Air Training conference.

More Rigid Gas Ration To Come Howe Announces

OTTAWA, May 20. — (CP) — More rigid rationing of gasoline was forecast in the House of Commons last night by Munitions Minister Howe.

Discussing efforts to reduce unnecessary use of gasoline, the minister said "the man who simply drives from here to there for pleasure is going to be without gasoline shortly."

Tax Increase

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—The House of Representatives' ways and means committee decided yesterday to raise the normal individual income tax rate in the United States from to six per cent

OTTAWA, May 20.—(CP)—Munitions Minister Howe told the House of Commons last night that the government might enter into direct development of the Alberta tar sands if investigation justified it.

If the government did enter upon this venture the plant would be a big one, the minister said, costing some millions of dollars. But plans were so uncertain as yet that he could not make a definite announcement.

The minister was replying to a by Howard Green (Con. Vancouver-Burrard) question directed at him (ver South) while the house, in committee, was considering the war appropriation bill resolution.

SURVEYS MADE

Mr. Howe said that so far it had not been the policy of the government directly to develop oil fields which required drilling, but the government made geological surveys and encouraged prospecting.

Conversations were proceeding looking toward the possibility of speeding up development of Peace River oil sources, now being carried out under direction of the British Columbia government, in cooperation with the New Brunswick government, examination was being made of oil shale areas in New Brunswick.

SUGGESTS HINDRANCE

New Democracy Leader Blackmore said he was now convinced that everything possible had been done to develop the Alberta tar sands and he believed some interest's with ulterior motives were blocking efforts of the munitions minister.

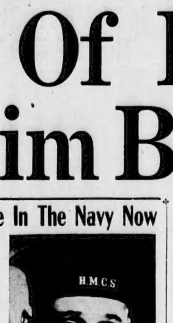

He would not take the advice of some of the men chosen to examine the possibilities of tar sands developments because they had ulterior motives.

"The rumor prevails in Alberta that some wells drilled in times past were deliberately capped and taken out of production," Mr. Blackmore said.

MURDER TRIAL

Witness States Accused Farmer Made Threats On Life Of Slain Relative

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

RED DEER, May 20.—The courtroom was crowded and people turned away Tuesday as the sensational murder trial of Charles H. Bennett, aged Rocky Mountain House farmer, concluded its second day in supreme court at Red Deer before Mr. Justice T. M. Tweedie. Bennett is charged with the slaying of his son-in-law, Theodore DeVitt, on August 1, 1939, nearly four years ago.

Four more witnesses were heard by the crown, with Jimmy Bennett, 15-year-old son of the accused, receiving a gruelling under the stiff cross-examination of the defence counsel, J. S. McClure of Red Deer. Jimmy testified for an hour and a half Monday afternoon, all of Tuesday morning and was recalled for a short time in the afternoon session.

The alleged slaying was the end of a long and bitter feud between the two men, and for four long years the secret was well kept within the large family of the Bennett's in their little homestead shack a few miles out of Rocky Mountain House in the Prairie Creek district.

M.D. Officials Witnesses At Murder Trial

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

RED DEER, May 20.—As the third day of the Bennett murder trial got under way at Red Deer Wednesday morning, witnesses were called to try and substantiate whether or not Theodore DeVitt as an appointed weed inspector for Division No. 2, M.D. of Prairie Creek in July, 1938, in which division he accused man had a hay quarrier, had authority to visit the Bennett homestead which was located in number three division of that same municipality.

Two officials of that former municipality, Mr. Williams Watkins, councillor (who was recalled) and Joseph Chambers, secretary-treasurer, gave testimony during the morning session.

The minutes of the council meeting of June 25, 1938, were read in which the councillors were given authority to appoint the weed inspectors for their own division.

Great Arms Centre Set Ablaze In Heavy Night Bombing Raid

By SIDNEY J. WILLIAMS

LONDON, May 20.—(BUP)—A big fleet of British bombers, including three R.C.A.F. squadrons, set the German armaments and chemical centre of Mannheim afire with tens of thousands of incendiaries and high explosive bombs in a 500-mile round trip assault last night, the air ministry reported tonight.

About 300 bombers took part in the attack, during which bombs were dropped on the German submarine base at St. Nazaire and on airdromes in northern France and Belgium.

The air ministry said that Stirlings, Halifaxes, Lancasters, Manchesters, Wellingtons and Hampdens were among the bombers which unloaded the incendiarics and bombs of the heaviest calibre on Mannheim in southwest Germany.

One detachment of Stirlings alone carried more than 40,000 incendiaries, it was stated.

The raids, the first after a lull caused by bad weather, plastered with fire and explosives Mannheim's big war factories including the Badische Anilin chemical works, the Lanz armament works and the Daimler-Benz engine works.

The submarine base at St. Nazaire recently raided by British Commandos, received similar treatment.

CITY MEN IN RAIDS

Leading the R.C.A.F. squadrons were three officers who have figured in many previous raids on German and occupied Europe, Wing-Commander J. C. P. Clayton, D.F.C., of Vancouver, Wing-Commander D. A. R. Bradshaw, of London, Ont., and Wing-Commander J. Fulton, D.F.C., A.F.C., of Kamloops, B.C.

(Three Edmonton men were included in Canadian squadrons which took part in the night attacks. They were Flt. Sgts. M. L. Swanson, E. R. Wilson and N. G. Arthur).

Returning crew members told of huge fires lighting the skies over their targets as they started on the trip home.

The size of the attacks was indicated by the air ministry's announcement that 12 bombers were missing. Two fighter planes also were missing from night operations over German airdromes in northern France and Holland. The British destroyed one Nazi plane.

THUNDER THROUGH NIGHT

Thousands of persons throughout southern Britain had heard planes thundering toward the channel during the night. Members of the British United Press staff, living in many sections of London, reported that they were awakened at intervals by planes, and Londoners coming to work on street cars and buses agreed that "our bloody mutt have kept the home fires burning last night."

Radio Berlin called the foray a "nuisance raid," but admitted that the British had "materially damaged residential quarters in some towns." Six planes were shot down, Radio Berlin said, indicating that the "nuisance" had been sizeable.

The R.A.F.'s three previous visits this month to southwest Germany—on May 5, 6 and 7—were concentrated on the important manufacturing centre of Stuttgart, where many of Germany's finest plane and submarine motors are made.

The last previous British raid on the Reich was on the Baltic port of Warnemunde on the night of May 8-9. Nineteen British heavy bombers failed to return, the largest number lost in months, but reports indicated that 250 tons of explosives had demolished docks, factories and a submarine training base.

$17,223,556 Alberta Stock Held Overseas

Alberta government stock registered in London, Eng., and held principally by persons residing in the British Isles totals $17,223,556, it was reported Wednesday by provincial treasury department officials.

This statement was made in connection with a report this week by representatives of the bondholders that a week's postponement be granted by the provincial government for the holding of the Alberta Debt Refunding Committee which will discuss the proposed refunding of $121,000,000 of Alberta debentures in the hands of the public.

WANT REPRESENTATIVE

Postponement of the committee's meeting from Thursday, May 21, to May 27 was requested so that a representative of British holders of Alberta securities could attend the refunding conference.

Recently, British holders stated they were prepared to accept three per cent interest on their debenture holdings providing a Dominion government guarantee was given.

It is expected this proposal will be discussed at the forthcoming conference.

LONDON REPORT

Russians Pierce Kharkov Defence

LONDON, May 20.—(CP)—Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's drive toward Kharkov was reported by Russian sources today to have penetrated "into the heart of the city's defence," while in the battle-torn Kerch isthmus of the Crimea the Nazis were believed massing 100,000 parachutists for a mighty air-borne invasion of the Caucasus.

Indications that Hitler is preparing to hurl powerful air forces into such an attempt to hop the Kerch strait, which halted his troops last fall, were seen strongly in the announcement in the Berlin communique that Air Commander, Gen. Baron von Richthofen is on Kerch peninsula.

It was Von Richthofen who directed the bombing of Belgrade and who later paved the way for Germany's aerial invasion of Crete by the use of hundreds of high level and dive bombers to smash ground resistance on the island.

A cousin of the late Baron Manfred von Richthofen, ace of the flat Great War, who finally was shot down by Capt. Roy Brown of Toronto, he is an expert on troop carrying by plane-towed gliders.

One British source said that if the Germans succeeded in their counter drive toward Izyum and Barvenkova, 80 miles southwest of Kharkov, it would be a serious threat to "a very tender spot" in the Red army's drive on Kharkov.

ALLIED COMMANDS

Plan To Send 1,000 Bombers A Night At Nazi Targets

LONDON, May 20.—(CP)—Allied air commands are aiming at expansion enabling them to send 1,000 bombers a night against German targets, an authoritative source indicated today.

"At present we have the facilities for sending 500 plans on raids, and these can be expanded."

The capacity of Britain as an air base has not yet been fully developed, he added.

"The objective is expansion so great that on any night with good weather conditions we will be able to send 1,000 aircraft to bomb Germany," he said, pointing out that this would not mean every night.

COMMONS TOLD COSTS TOO HIGH

Fair Wartime Housing Scheme For Soldiers Demanded

Member Charges Men Now Overseas Have No Homes Due To Existing Situation

OTTAWA, May 20. — (CP) — Rev. A. M. Nicholson (C.C.F., Mackenzie) said in the House of Commons last night that young men had gone to war to fight for their homes, but when they return they might find they had no homes because of the cost of maintaining houses.

He compared wartime houses constructed by the government in Hull, Que., with low cost houses built under the National Housing Act.

The former were costing the tenants $30 a month yet they were small and had no furnaces or basements. But there were many Housing Act residences with full size basements and furnaces, plumbing, solidly built, for which the owner put out $250 cash and was permitted to amortize the remainder in 20 years of monthly payments of $20 which covered interest, principal, insurance and taxes.

HAVE NO HOMES

Men were overseas offering their lives to protect their homes but had no homes there when their wives could not obtain houses.

Mr. Nicholson said houses should be provided and should be constructed so that they would be permanent and rent at a price soldiers' families could afford.

Mr. Howe and the government had adopted a type of housing that would give the tenant every comfort but would not be too expensive because in many instances they would not be needed after the war in the points where located.

They might seem more expensive than National Housing act buildings because the former were placed on streets with sidewalks, sewage and water.

But wartime housing projects were generally in new developments where streets, sidewalks, water and sewerage had to be installed. All these improvements were charged to the cost of the houses and brought up the apparent unit cost.

In cases where the housing units were erected in the same location after the war they could easily be jacked up and basements and furnaces installed. Otherwise they could easily be knocked down and moved to other localities.

Mr. Nicholson was joined by Rev. T. C. Douglas (C.C.F., Weyburn) in pressing for an explanation of the reason why permanent National Housing Act homes with basements and furnaces could be built by private owners for $700 less than the cost of wholesale construction of temporary houses without the furnaces or basements.

Mr. Howe suggested that the members should take this matter up before the war expenditure committee.

POOR CONSTRUCTION

G. H. Castleden (C.C.F., Yorkton) said he had visited a Wartime Housing Ltd., house at St. Catharines, Ont., with no basement, no foundation and with the interior plasterboard poorly put on.

Mr. Howe said he would have the case checked if Mr. Castleden would give the address to which the Yorkton member said he would on the understanding there should be no intimidation. He was assured there would not be and then provided the address.

Bombing Reich Is Best Method To Help Russia

Kong and Singapore is also responsible for Tobruk, for Malta, for the sinking of half the Italian fleet, for the sinking of the Bismarck and the Graf Spee," said Mr. Herbert, Independent member for Oxford University.

SEES NO FRUSTRATION

"If we are going to have this sort of steeplechasing, we are entitled to say that this man is responsible for the fact that during the last 12 months the people of England have been able to sleep in their beds and the wheels of industry able to revolve uninterrupted, and that's very much the reverse of what has been happening in Germany."

Mr. Herbert said he did not agree that there is "this awful sense of frustration" among the people.

"On the contrary, I find them cheerful, eager, optimistic. Their heads are very sound and their hearts eager and I believe this is because they have faith in their leadership. I believe the people know they have got a great man and are determined to keep him and deserve him, and so am I."

AGAINST SECOND FRONT

He spoke after Leslie Hore-Belisha, war secretary in the opening four months of the war, urged establishment of a separate ministry of defence, a demand which Mr. Churchill has consistently rejected on the ground that as Prime Minister he has to take personally the ultimate responsibility for war plans.

Mr. Hore-Belisha said the house and the people should not hound the government into opening a western front against Germany, warning it would "perhaps be the biggest undertaking in British military history and worse than not undertaking it would be to undertake it and fail."

Mr. Hore-Belisha, noting "a feeling of optimism being engendered in this country in marked contrast to the atmosphere of last February," asked whether it "would be more prudent and in accordance with Stalin's own judgment to take a more restrained view."

JAPS CAN STRIKE

The former war secretary said the Japanese are "still advancing" and warned that if the Allies "could open a second front in the west in order to help Russia the Japanese could open a second front in the east in order to embarrass Russia."

We are not fighting Germany alone but a powerful Axis combination."

Godbout Aid Is Asked For Fight On Conscription

OTTAWA, May 20. — (CP) — A number of French-Canadian Liberal members of the House of Commons, after a meeting held here late last night, sent a telegram to Premier Godbout of Quebec asking him and his government and members of the Quebec legislature to assist them "in their fight against conscription for service overseas."

The meeting, attended by Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, who resigned from the cabinet on the conscription issue, was presided over by Alphonse Fournier (Lib., Hull), who said "it was a large and most representative meeting."

The telegram was signed by "Alphonse Fournier, president; Gaspard Fauteux, secretary." Mr. Fauteux is the recently-elected Liberal member for Montreal-St. Mary.

Ontario Official Is Heading North

Acting in an advisory capacity to the United States Roads Bureau, H. M. Smith, deputy minister of public works for the province of Ontario, passed through Edmonton Wednesday enroute to Fort St. John. He is accompanied by C. H. Nelson, who was engineer in charge of road building for the Ontario government in northern Ontario.

Mr. Smith said he was making the trip in the north to look over the terrain, and to give any assistance possible to the United States Engineering Bureau working on the Alaska highway in the light of his experience in road construction in similar territory in Ontario.

He said that the last link in the Trans-Canada highway would be completed and open for traffic by August 1. This link, 180 miles in length between Hearst and Geraldton in Northern Ontario, would cost approximately $10,000,000 to build and would be important for national defense purposes.

Axis Raids On Malta Slacken: 1 Plane Downed

VALETTA, May 20.—(CP)—Enemy activity over Malta yesterday was light, authorities reported in last night's communique. In actions over the island's airdromes R.A.F. defenders brought down an Italian bomber and damaged a bomber and a fighter.

Malta's toll of enemy aircraft for May passed the 100-mark with destruction of the Italian bomber, the Italian Broadcasting Corporation reported last night.)

Jobless Men 16-70 Years Must Register

what occupations they are fitted to undertake, nor where they are located.

"We must know these things to handle the task of fitting men to jobs.

"It is unreasonable to allow an unutilized condition to force women into industry while bread-winners are unemployed. Housing, transportation and other factors enter into the problems of directing men to employment, but such factors cannot be considered except in the light of what manpower is available, and where it is available."

The order for registration of unemployed was dated May 19 and signed by Labor Minister Mitchell.

Failure to comply with the requirements makes any person liable to a fine not exceeding $50, imprisonment of not more than three months—or both.

There is no provision for compelling persons to take employment.

"We believe that if we can get to a man and explain the need, 90 per cent will respond," Mr. Mitchell said.

With regard to employment of older men in industry, the registration will include men up to 70 years of age. The selective service director said he thought industry will apply "common-sense" as labor conditions become tighter.

GET ACCURATE INFORMATION

One estimate placed the number of unemployed in Canada at 100,000, Mr. Little said. More accurate information would be available when results of the recent survey of employed persons was compiled.

The new registration of persons not gainfully employed will include those generally described as unemployable but many of them will probably ultimately find a place in Canada's war needs, Mr. Little said.

"What is an unemployable today may not be tomorrow if the needs are great enough," he said.

Information on immediate labor needs was only by hearsay and was not sufficient to establish a total figure for Canada

"There is a general shortage of skilled trades and a local shortage of all trades," he said. "In British Columbia there is an overall shortage."

NEED CO-OPERATION

"To win this war, every bit of available strength has to be utilized," Mr. Little said. "We recognize that many men who have sincerely wanted to work have not been able to work, and we intend to end that condition as fast as our information and the machinery of administration can permit it,

"But we must know something about men before we can put them in jobs. We also must have co-operation from the employers in telling us where the jobs are going to be—anticipating their needs and telling us. We earnestly request employers to list their current and future needs with the employment offices.

"We also recognize that there are men who are able to work, who are in areas where work is available, but who have not voluntarily taken steps to fit themselves into the picture. When we know who they are, what they can do and where they can be most useful, we believe they will recognize their responsibilities."

Men who are not gainfully employed or occupied, no matter what their status or condition otherwise, must register. Mr. Little said gainful employment, while Canada is at war, means that every man who is able to work should be assisting at a job which contributes to the winning of the war, even if it means working at a job which merely release another man for heavier war tasks.

Declares Effort Is Being Impeded

Charge that Canada's war effort is being impaired for lack of adequate restrictions in the liquor traffic was laid by Dr. George A. Little, Toronto, at a supper meeting in Central United Church, Tuesday evening, under sponsorship of the Alberta Temperance Forces. Dr. Little is in Edmonton to attend the Alberta Conference of the United Church of Canada in session this week.

Rev. R. McElroy Thompson, president of the A.T.F., was in the chair. One hundred and fifty were present at the dinner.

Rev. J. MacBeath Miller introduced the speaker and Rev. H. E. Gardiner, president of the Bible Institute of Camrose, asked the invocation. After supper, Miss Una Palmer sang, accompanied by Mrs. D. C. Barns.

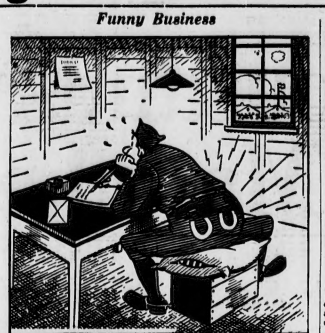

Rev. W. G. Collier, secretary-treasurer, gave his report.

"Accidental Death" Stabbing Verdict

MONTREAL, May 20. — (CP) — Verdict of accidental death was returned here today in the death of Jean Bourdeau, 15, who yesterday was stabbed by his friend, Jean De Roy, 10. Witnesses testified the two boys in a playful mood were just "teasing" when the accident happened.

Eight million old-time galley slaves would be needed to propel the modern huge ocean liners.

Boy Is Killed When Hit By South Train

STAVELY, Alta., May 20—(CP)—Despite the frantic efforts of his three-year-old brother, Alfred, to pull him to safety, Harry Robert O'Connor, year-and-a-half-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Connor was instantly killed here yesterday, when run over by a southbound C.P.R. passenger train.

Sons of Section Foreman Walter O'Connor, the two young boys were playing on the railroad right-of-way a few yards from the front door of their home when the train steamed into the town.

Engineer S. Steidelbauer, spotting the children on the track, sounded a long blast on the train whistle and slammed on the brakes of the train but was unable to bring it to a stop in time to miss the boy.

Members of the train crew, only other witnesses of the accident, said the older boy evidently saw the train coming and tried to pull his brother with him as he jumped to safety.

Hero Is Cleared On Theft Counts

LONDON, May 20—(CP)—Capt. Robert Davies, awarded the George Cross in 1940 for removing a time bomb from St. Paul's cathedral, today was acquitted by court martial on three charges of theft and looting, and findings on outstanding charges will be made known later.

He pleaded guilty today to a further 13 charges of issuing cheques without having sufficient funds in the bank to meet them. Last Monday, Capt. Davies, who once lived in St. Catharines, Ont., pleaded guilty to improperly receiving £500 ($2,225) from a business firm.

Nazis' Offensive On Kerch Termed Propaganda Move

KUIBYSHEV, May 20.— (AP) — Maj.-Gen. Nikolai Zhuravlev declared today the Nazi offensive in the Kerch peninsula of the Crimea "was launched more from propaganda considerations than strategic reasons" in an attempt to win a victory somewhere, however small.

The Soviet army tactician said German soldiers and officers have lost confidence in themselves and their leaders.

He said the Red army's successful offensive in the Kharkov area collapsed "another German myth"—that it was winter which caused the German withdrawals.

Tempo Of Far East Warfare Is Increasing

By The Canadian Press

Overshadowed by the great battle in Russia, the far Pacific war theatre took on ominous new significance today as Australia's Prime Minister John Curtin warned that "the tempo of the struggle is increasing and our fighting men hourly face the supreme test."

Mr. Curtin's statement, possibly hinting at the imminence of a new Japanese invasion threat, followed upon Chinese warning yesterday that Japan is preparing an offensive to crush Chiang Kai-Shek's main Chinese armies and knock China out of the war.

"You have been told that the next few weeks are fraught with grave possibilities," Mr. Curtin said. "I repeat that warning in the sternest terms."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said Australian and United States fliers continued their scouting sweeps over the northern islands where the Japanese were reported massing new armadas for a possible thrust toward Australia.

On the Burma front, British headquarters announced "no change" as British and Indian rearguards awaited contact with Japanese troops driving up the Chindwin river valley toward India.

Twenty-Two Warned On Humane Counts

Twenty-two persons were warned against overloading livestock trucks during the past month, by inspectors of the Alberta Humane Society, it was reported at a meeting held at the Y.W.C.A., Wednesday.

Humane Inspector H. J. Jones reported that in the month ending May 19, 34,625 swine and hogs had been inspected by him, 928 cattle, 1,373 calves, and 442 sheep.

As a result of inspections, 24 persons were warned against using no partitions in trucks, 22 warned against overloading, 20 warned for having no bedding in live stock trucks. Nineteen shippers were warned of infraction of regulations.

Fourteen dead animals were discovered on arrival at stock yards and 28 crippled animals were discovered. These animals were chiefly hogs and sheep and the juries resulted from overloading by the shippers and careless truck drivers, the officer said.

Inspector A. Lawrence reported 479 cattle, 2,700 hogs, 30 sheep and 131 horses inspected during the month.

Numerous other inspections are carried out each month in poultry, produce establishments, horse sale barns and stables where livestock is kept and handled.

Yugoslav Forces Kill Many Italian Troops In Wreck

JERUSALEM, May 20.—(AP)—Gen. Draja Mihailovitch's Yugoslav forces recently killed many Italian soldiers near Metkovic in Dalmatia by derailing a troop train, Yugoslav sources reported last night.

Daily clashes with German troops near Belgrade and at Palanka, 65 miles northwest of the Danube, also were reported by these sources who said the Nazis had stopped sending Bulgarian troops against the Yugoslavs because a number of Bulgar regiments deserted to join Mihailovic's mountain fighters.

Fewer Than 100 Britons Killed At Madagascar

Following exclusive story is made available to The Canadian Press by courtesy of the London Daily Mail.

By W. F. HARTIN
Special Correspondent of the London Daily Mail

DIEGO SUAREZ, Madagascar, May 20.—Fewer than 100 killed and about 380 wounded — this represented the small cost of casualties to Britain combined forces in their capture of Diego Suarez to forestall any Japanese attempt to gain this strategic naval base in Northern Madagascar.

The full story of the combined operations over the coral reef and almost roadless northern peninsula of Madagascar can now be told.

They were so daringly planned that the French thought them impossible and made no preparation to meet them.

They provided for our convoys to arrive, under cover of darkness, inside a dangerous series of rocks and coral reefs which form a ring around the bay on the west side of the island. It is separated from Diego Suarez—an immense landlocked harbor, larger in area than Scapa Flow—by a serrated and overgrown peninsula some 25 miles wide.

BATTERIES NOT MANNED

Recently installed six-inch and 3.7-inch batteries commanded the wide horizon of the bay, but so satisfied were the French that no large ship could thread the dangerous channels through the reefs in darkness that the batteries were manned only during daylight.

Thus, when in bright moonlight at 3 a.m., May 5, our light craft led in a large ship convoy, we were able to take up our anchorages unhindered within a minute of the scheduled time.

Probably the Royal Navy has never carried out a more daring or more mathematically exact piece. It was something the enemy had not even envisaged. Our first plane and it brought us, at daylight, to the back door of one of the most coveted harbors in the world.

M.D. Officials Witnesses At Murder Trial

(This authority was questioned by the court.)

"Do you know if the appointments were ever confirmed?" Mr. Chambers asked. "I would take it that the motion on the minutes would confirm it, other than that, other action was taken," was the reply.

WITNESS CHALLENGED

Watkins confirmed that he had appointed DeVitt as weed inspector, and the appointment signed by defence counsel, J. R. McClure.

"I put it to you, Mr. Watkins, that DeVitt on June 25, 1938, was snugly cooped up in Fort Saskatchewan jail serving a three-month sentence for assault. You know that he had served sentence and you did not think that this was any scar upon his character and that there was no reason for not appointing him weed inspector?"

"No."

Further testimony revealed that there were no weeds on the hay quarter in question in Division 2 where DeVitt was weed inspector.

SON ON STAND

Leslie Turner Bennett, 23-year-old son of the accused, now serving in the army, stationed in Nova Scotia, took the witness stand late in the morning session and will again take it during the afternoon.

The young lad, the eldest of the family, was 19 at the time of the alleged shooting. He stood upright in the witness stand. Leslie was haying on August 1, 1939 and when he returned home, testimony revealed, his father came out of the house and said to him, "I finally got DeVitt." He had helped to bury the dead man during the night.

Alberta Leads In Program Of Youth Training

OTTAWA, May 20. — (CP) — The Dominion-Provincial Youth Training program was operated on a reduced scale during the fiscal year 1941-42 and the war emergency training program was expanded, it was stated in a report tabled in the House of Commons yesterday by Labor Minister Mitchell.

Instruction was given to 19,783 persons under the youth plan during the year. The largest number was in Alberta, 6,615. Totals for the other western provinces were: British Columbia, 6,063; Saskatchewan, 961.

Since the program was introduced in 1937 a total of 221,418 have been given training, the report said.

Coast Doctor Has Driver's License Suspended 3 Years

VANCOUVER, May 20.—(CP)—Dr. Frank D. Tepoorten was fined $250 with the option of three months in jail, and his driver's license was suspended for three years by Police Court Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson yesterday on conviction of a charge of dangerous driving.

"A good citizen should not tear around wasting gasoline and rubber in wartime," the magistrate said in passing sentence.

The charge arose out of a collision, and testimony in police court was that Tepoorten's car was travelling 55 miles an hour.

Red Cross Drive Now Reaches One-Third Of Quota

TORONTO, May 20.—(CP)—Collections for the Canadian Red Cross national appeal for $9,000,000 reached approximately one-third of the objective at the end of the seventh day of the campaign, it was announced yesterday at national headquarters here.

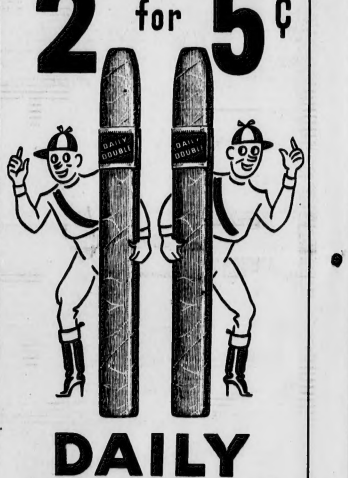

While reports from the provinces showed a more encouraging trend, officials said "much better returns" are needed to ensure success for the appeal.

Getting Somewhere

The Governments of Saskatchewan and Manitoba and the farm organizations of those provinces are being asked to send delegates to meet with representatives of the Government and the farm organizations of Alberta, in a conference where the basic economic problems of the western farmer will be threshed out. There is every prospect that the invitations will be welcomed and the conference materialize.

Naturally farm debts and the farm credit question will hold a prominent place on the program. This question is beyond the range of private or corporation solution. Neither the farmer nor the mortgage company can find the answer, either to the existing debt tangle or to the provision of future farm credit. Just as the Dominion had to come to the aid of private enterprise to finance war industries, it will have to come to the aid of the farmer, both in regard to present indebtedness and future loans.

But readjusting present debts and providing cheap loans for the future will not put western agriculture on its feet. To accomplish that, the farmer will have to be enabled to farm at a profit. He will have to get prices for his products fairly in keeping with the prices of what he must buy. Agriculture, as the Edmonton Bulletin has urged for many years, needs not only relief in the matter of debts and credit—but stabilization in the matter of farm income.

However it is to be brought about, the western farmer cannot prosper—nor the western country either—until equilibrium is established between what the farmer gets and what he has to pay out. The conference, it is to be hoped, will point the way to that essential balanced economy.

Facing A Challenge

Five hundred young men and women, most of them residents of Alberta, received their degrees and certificates from the University at the convocation held yesterday. With the medical students who graduated some weeks ago, this year's graduation class is one of the largest in the history of the 32-year-old institution. The number is only slightly below that of last year, showing that war conditions have not seriously hampered the cause of higher education in this province.

More than half this year's graduates go directly into the armed forces or into war work. If this means for them a postponement of plans and dreams long cherished and worked for, it also carries a tribute which may in some degree compensate for the delay. Because of the training they have achieved, these young men and women are needed by their country in its hour of crisis for work which they could not have performed without that training.

To these, and to all the graduates, congratulations are due—not so much because their college days have ended as because the days have been well spent. The diplomas they received are something more than testimonials to the knowledge they have acquired. They are proof also that these young people have developed the power to learn, which is of infinitely more value in life than the mere possession of a piece of parchment.

These graduates go out into a sorely troubled world. In war and in peace there will be need of all the knowledge they have gained, and of the best thought and effort of which they are capable. Never did a graduating class face a more challenging situation. That they will meet the challenge and do their part may be confidently expected.

Reactions In Rome

It is easy to believe Swiss reports that political unrest has quickened in Italy because of Herr Hitler's recent speech. It was by no means the kind of speech Il Duce and his followers wanted to hear.

The Fascists took Italy into the war for what they could get out of it. The stab in the back of France was perfectly timed. Great territorial profits were to be raked in without risk. Signor Mussolini was never in better form than when he climbed out on the balcony to receive the advance plaudits of his henchmen for the glory that was to come to them and the spoils that were to be gathered from prostrate France and all but down-and-out Britain. But the Fuehrer did not distribute the unearned profits according to expectation, and his late speech inspired little hope that there will be any to distribute. In fact he quite plainly implied that the outcome of the whole conspiracy is open to doubt, and that in any case the struggle will be long and hard.

To the Fascists this must have sounded bad. They have lost the empire Italy had and bankrupted the country; only to be told that worse may possibly befall, and this by the great Fuehrer himself.

The Blackshirts will not revolt of course; they have to hang together or hang separately. But the anti-Fascist Italians may revolt, and they are getting more numerous and more angry as the days pass and the "goods" are not delivered.

It is probably a premature report that King Victor Emmanuel is taking things in hand to try and save further disaster by quitting the Axis. But the pressure to do so must be getting strong. As for Mussolini, he would bolt Hitler any day for a price; would have done so any time within the past year.

While the Dominion over the output of cheese and condensed milk for Britain has been made at the cost of cutting down butter production, in Alberta butter-production has been greater in the past four months than in the corresponding period last year and cheese-production has gone up more than 50 per cent. Like the Alberta hog, the Alberta cow is setting the pace for the rest of the country.

V

M. Laval is doing what he can to keep up appearances. He has informed Washington, without being asked, that he will not O.K. the arrangements made with the High Commissioner at Martinique. Since M. Laval has the much appreciated honor of speaking for Herr Hitler, this is good news. Any arrangement there which Hitler does not like must be all to the good of both the Allies and France.

V

News that the Canadian ice-breaker Montcalm has reached a north Russian port recalls the very positive statement of Mr. Churchill that the northern route is to be kept open at all costs. The Montcalm is there to help. Murmansk is an ice-free port, but Archangel is not. The railway line to Murmansk, however, runs close to the Finnish border, while that to Archangel is three hundred miles back in Russian territory. If a channel can be kept open through the ice in the White Sea, munitions landed at Archangel will be beyond reach of the enemy there and while en route to Moscow.

Eighteen Workers For Each Soldier

The extension of National Selective Service to all Canadians and to all industries contributing directly or indirectly to war production will answer effectively the question that many have been asking: "Am I doing all that I can to assist in Canada's war effort?" Many have already found the answer through voluntary enlistment in the armed forces or through special service for the government and in war industries. Now every Canadian will know his place, and to some will come the humbling if military service that the greatest service we can render is to carry on to the utmost of our ability the tasks which we are already performing. These tasks are the essential civilian services upon which, as the foundation of community life, the war effort must be based.

We are often told of the highly technical nature of modern warfare, and of the necessity for organization of the home front to support the fighting services. Calculations have been made, showing that every man on active service must be supported by the efforts of eighteen men at home, in industry, agriculture and transportation, while only five workers were required for every fighting man in the World War of 1914-1918.—Royal Bank of Canada.

Test Of Citizenship

How to Determine if You Are Doing Your Full Duty

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Bulletin: Are you doing your full duty in this war? Here is a test.

Give yourself whatever marks you think you deserve for an affirmative answer. Ten is full marks for each question. If your total is one hundred, you are a good citizen.

1. Do you buy war stamps or bonds with every penny you can spare?

2. Do you avoid waste of all kind—at home, at work, at play and on the public highway?

3. Do you encourage others to give 100% all-out war effort?

4. Are you taking part in civilian defense; are you working for the Red Cross; are you collecting salvage?

5. Do you extend hospitality to our armed forces at home, or do you write cheering letters to those at the front or at work to bring victory?

6. Do you serve in silence, guarding war information and refusing to pass on wild rumors?

7. Are you doing your job daily to the best of your ability, giving it your efficient thought and hand?

8. Are you keeping fit physically?

9. Are you truthfully maintaining a cheerful outlook toward the ultimate victory, in spite of unfavorable news?

10. Do you have a co-operative attitude toward government regulations; do you serve your country in the best way possible—if fit are you a member of the active or reserve military force?

Alaska Menaced

Editor, Bulletin: A short time ago I called attention in this column to an article by Professor G. A. Borgese, of Chicago in which he expressed the opinion that a second front should be created immediately by the despatch of an American expeditionary forces to Siberia. The same opinion is now expressed by an American military authority, Major M. Wheeler-Nicholson, author of a number of books on military affairs, in the current Harpers.

Major Wheeler-Nicholson says, "We are losing the war" and that we are losing it because we will not learn that defensive tactics are not enough. He thinks that the section of the war area which is the most immediately dangerous is not Europe but the Pacific. Moreover he holds the opinion that if Germany once conquered will afford the best spring-board from which to launch the final offensive in the west. There are no practicable bridges made in the Atlantic or the Mediterranean. The only place from which Germany can be successfully attacked by the United Nations is the soil of Poland and Russia. Vast reserves of manpower exist in China, India and Australia. By freeing Asia and the Pacific and Indian Oceans of Japanese aggression, the United Powers can move westward along the Siberian railway and the Pacific Ocean seaways to attack Germany through the backdoor.

So far as the Western front is concerned he would leave Britain and Russia to hold that with such advance as may be made by Russia and such destruction as may be caused by the R.A.F. of military objectives, factories, lines of communication, docks, etc. He thinks that the United States and Britain should without delay occupy the Azores, the Canaries and the Cape Verde Islands. The United States should leave in the Atlantic only such naval and air power as is necessary to keep open supply lines and defend the coast. Then "every plane, man, ship, gun and tank possible should be concentrated in the Pacific area immediately," he writes.

Alaska, he says, is the ideal point on the American continent for a blow by Japan at the United States and hence this is the point to which attention should be directed. He thinks that it is highly possible that Japan will attack Alaska before she does Siberia. Hence we should beat her to that place. Instead of taking a year or more to build the Edmonton-Alaska road, he holds that "hundreds of thousands of workers" headed by strong army engineer troops, should be put to work to finish this road quickly. It is by far the shortest road to our objectives. Otherwise "too late and too little will be our doom".

I do not pretend to be an army expert but Major Wheeler-Nicholson's idea would seem not only to be within the realm of immediate practicability—which an invasion of Europe seems not to be—but far the most feasible of any plan yet suggested. It is particularly interesting to us who live in the western part of this continent.

Two Languages

Editor, Bulletin: Official recognition of two languages in Canada has been the means of keeping alive the memories of conquest and the perpetuation of race distinction; consequently, the advocates for a "Dual Language League" are merely carrying appeasement to its extreme limit.

What we really need is a leader, strong enough and with courage enough, to tell Quebec that it must either recognize the fact that it is a part of Canada and the British Commonwealth of Nations, and act accordingly, or submit to the restrictions usually applied to aliens. The anti-British "Canadians" have already been pampered too much for their and our good.

The immigrant from Southeastern Europe learns to speak English because he is willing to accept the responsibilities of citizenship.

One Language Only

Editor, Bulletin: Canada is not a dual language nation.

Canada is a dominion of Britain and so the language should be English.

Why not compel French-Canadians to speak English and let this be one country worth living in? All the other Dominions speak the English language and are satisfied.

I would suggest any person that wants to speak French go where it is spoken.

Canadian Minister To Moscow

Diplomatic Exchange With Russia Is Regarded as Desirable

By HAROLD L. WEIR

There has been considerable talk in Ottawa, of recent weeks, of the appointment of a Canadian minister to Moscow.

The project appears to have gained the approval of practically all shades of Canadian opinion except two.

Harold L. Weir

First, the diminishing few who still cling obstinately, even in wartime, to the doctrine of the sacred rights of money and property and who feel that even to shake hands with the Soviets is to risk confiscation.

Secondly, the reactionaries who will go to their graves in the unalterable belief that the Russians are involved in some horrible plot to cut the throats of all who do not believe exactly as they do.

It is hard to believe that these two classes still exist. It is even more hard to believe that they still exert an influence in the country. But apparently they do.

In spite of the fact that we are engaged in total war, we still find time to listen to those with unobtrusively champion special privilege—although special privilege is the very antithesis of total war.

Moreover, we still tolerate the reactionaries who have never been able to explain why, if the Russians wish to destroy us, they did not sign that separate peace with Germany that Hitler would have been glad to arrange any time during the past two months.

Nightmare

It would be utter nonsense to say that this country, as a whole, looks favorably upon the doctrine of Communism, although the mass sentiment has changed to a very great extent since our alliance with the Soviets.

A great many people give due consideration to the fact that if Communism was able to transform the Russian people from a heterogeneous mass of indecision and graft, as they were in the last war, to a disciplined, devoted and capable fighting force, as they are in this war, there must be some favorable aspects to Communism after all.

There is the further fact that the thoughts of millions of Canadians are turning into communal (not necessarily communistic) channels as the war goes on—particularly with regard to social and financial reform.

Neither of these waves of sentiment can be interpreted as indicating, to the slightest degree, that Canadians are going communistic.

The truth is that the doctrine, in spite of all the favorable things that can be said about it and in spite of the tolerance with which it is regarded, has a foreign flavor in Canadian months.

It is a typically and exclusively Russian phenomenon. We are no more likely to adopt it in this country than we are to relinquish hamburgers in favor of borlsch.

No matter what reforms we should seek in Canada and even if our objectives should become exactly the same as Lenin's or Stalin's, there is no chance in the world that we would adopt the same means of securing them.

We would operate through typically Canadian methods just as the Russians have operated through typically Russian methods.

Thus, the communistic nightmare, in this country, is over. We may not like Communism, as such, but we no longer fear it.

Wholesome

This is a much more wholesome frame of mind than that dark obsession that ruled our apprehension during those fatuous days when we were encouraging Hitler to build up his murder machine "to protect the world against Communism."

In short, the communistic bogey has been driven away by the simple process of getting just slightly acquainted with the Russian state.

It is possible for us to appreciate now what utter asses we made of ourselves when our panic and our fear caused us to believe that a Communist was only slightly less dangerous than Lucifer himself.

This healthier state of mind could be induced by the development of a mere bowing acquaintance with what we believed were these satanic people, all the cobwebs of illusion might be dispelled by a genuine knowledge of what they are trying to do.

Even the apostles of special privilege and the reactionaries might learn something—as the lawyers so seldom say—to their advantage.

A nation that has affected such an amazing transformation in itself in twenty years could surely teach us something.

No More Fear

It is a good thing to be free of fear. It is a good thing to be rid of the dark obsession that political ailments are infectious and that the only thing that can save our highly superior way of life from contagion is a lofty isolationism—a sort of righteous quarantine against thought or change.

That is why an interchange of ministers with Russia is something to be desired.

That is why the terrified attitude of the reactionaries is something to be flouted and defied.

If our hearts are stout and our principles are sound, we can only gain by reaching out and studying in frank friendliness, anything that any part of the world can teach us.

Canadians are beginning to understand that it is one of the strangest anomalies in our public life that Ottawa should so despicately cherish one diplomatic connection that all honest men loathe and, at the same time, be so peculiarly reluctant to take on another that most people would welcome.

In other words, why do we continue to play host to the representative of enemy Vichy while we refuse to accept a representative from our ally Russia?

A visitor was entering a museum when he was stopped by the new doorkeeper.

"Pardon me, sir," he said, "but you must leave your umbrella here."

"But I have no umbrella," replied the man in surprise.

"Then I'm afraid you must go and get one," said the doorkeeper firmly. "That notice says that all umbrellas must be left at the door."

Resolution Asks Permanent Clearwater Buffalo Reserve

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE.—A resolution asking the provincial member, A. J. Hooke, M.L.A., to make representations to Hon. N. E. Tanner, provincial minister of lands and mines, and Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, federal minister of trade and industry, that the buffalo, kept here for the past two years, and surplus buffalo from Elk Island National Park, be placed in a park in the Clearwater Forest Reserve, was passed here at a meeting of the Clearwater and West Country Fish and Game Association.

The resolution further asked that the necessary acreage for this, the last national buffalo haunt in North America, be set aside as a permanent home for the animals.

Officers elected at the meeting were: President, Henry Stelfox; secretary-treasurer, C. W. Matheson; chairman of the gun club, Roy Charlton; chairman of the fish section, Ernest Ross.

Problems of game conservation and the trouble with beavers once more building dams on the Clearwater river after being poached out last spring, were outlined by the president.

Navy Cannot Stop Occasional U-Boat Attacks On Coast

HALIFAX, May 20.—(CP)—The Royal Air Force cannot stop occasional German planes from reaching Britain, and similarly the navy cannot stop occasional U-boat forays along Canada's coasts, Navy Minister Angus L. Macdonald said on his arrival here last night.

"We can't be sure we knock them all out," the minister said, "but we are fighting them." He declined comment when asked what success the navy was meeting in destroying the undersea raiders.

Mr. Macdonald was accompanied by Vice-Admiral Percy Nelles, chief of Canada's naval staff. They will officiate here today at the laying of keels for the first Tribal class destroyers to be built in Canada.

Witness Says Accused Farmer Made Threats

drag the body of the slain man over to a flower bed, and from there carried on the door by his father and mother out to the oat field to where it was subsequently buried.

Four other witnesses were called during the afternoon session. They were two neighboring farmers of that same district: Lorenze Jenson and William Watkins, William J. Strang, Rocky Mountain House lumberman, and Howard Dale Bennett, 18-year-old son of the accused.

William Watkins, crown witness, a neighbor of that district, who knew the murdered man and the accused well, took the stand.

"In 1938 you held an official position?" "Yes."

"What?" "I was councillor."

"Did you appoint DeVitt as weed inspector?" "Yes."

AUTHORITY QUESTIONED

The court asked how he had the authority alone to appoint the weed inspector.

The prosecuting counsel said he was not interested in the authority, but the defence counsel said, "I am afraid I am, my lord." And the crowded courtroom laughed.

The crown called Lorenze Jensen, a Prairie Creek farmer, to the witness box, who revealed that he was of German nationality.

"Did you ever hear accused speak of DeVitt" "Yes."

"When?" "In 1938."

"What did Mr. Bennett say?" "Mr. Bennett talked about DeVitt and Mrs. Bennett and as near as I can say, Bennett said, "I do not like DeVitt coming around the place—to the effect that if DeVitt does not stay away something would happen to him, and that DeVitt had a police record in Holland and also the U.S." the witness told the jury.

Mr. McClure asked the witness if he did not take Mrs. Bennett and DeVitt into Rocky Mountain House about the time DeVitt was to appear for trial?" "Yes," the witness answered.

"Where did they stay all night?" "I do not know. I returned home the same day."

SON TESTIFIES

Howard Dale Bennett, 18-year-old son of the accused, confirmed that Jimmy had left school on the fatal day shortly after the noon recess because of a sprained wrist, and that he, Howard, had noticed some hay scattered over the pathway upon his return from school later in the day.

"What time did you go to bed that night?" "About 9 p.m.—the boys were sleeping in a bunkhouse at the time."

"Did you see anything that night?" "I saw a light and Leslie was dressed and he went out—that is all I saw."

The next day Howard saw a little blood on the ground.

"Then what happened?" "Leslie took a shovel and picked up the dirt with the bloodstains on and carried it across into a field and dumped it into a hole."

"How big was the hole?" "Six feet long and about three feet wide."

"How full was it?" "About one and a half feet from the top."

"Then what did you do?" "We filled in the hole level with the surface."

"You then put brush over the hole?" "Yes."

Howard helped the police this year to locate the grave out in the oat field.

"Did you see anything taken from the hole?" "Yes. I saw DeVitt's body."

"Did you know of your own knowledge that it was the body of DeVitt?" "No."

The jury asked then if he knew whether or not it was the body of a male or female?

Howard did not know.

"Did you ever hear your father make any reference to anything that had happened the day previous to when you had filled the grave?" "No."

"Did you ever tell anyone?" "Because my father told Leslie."

"Because of something my brother Leslie said."

"Did you ever hear your father saying anything to your brothers, Leslie and Jimmy?" "Yes."

"Where?" "By the barn."

"Tell all you heard."

ASKED SECRECY

"I just heard him say not to let that out among the neighbors."

"Did you ever hear your father express an opinion about DeVitt?" "Yes."

"What did he say?" "That he was a sneak, a snake, a sneak."

"Did you ever hear your father say anything good about him?" Witness smiled and said, "No."

Howard revealed that the rifle was then loaded a lot of the time on the verandah for hawks and things.

Mr. McClure asked the witness if he had lived at home until April 1941. "Yes," he replied.

Last year Howard had worked in Eckville.

"What name did you boys call DeVitt" "Devitt."

"Did you ever hear him called 'The Frog'" "Yes, my father called him that."

William J. Strong, crown witness, testified that he thought that he had seen DeVitt after the end of July, 1938, in Edmonton, in Fort Saskatchewan, where he was serving a jail sentence.

"What was he there for?" "For striking another boy with an axe."

"Who?" "Henry Bennett."

"Did you ever see him after that?" "Yes, once in Rocky, shortly afterwards."

"Did you ever hear accused say anything about DeVitt?" "Yes, once in my office."

"What did Mr. Bennett say?" "That I will get him sometime."

Defence counsel asked the witness what was the setting for this threat? "Well, it was the only time I saw Mr. Bennett really human—he had tears in his eye when he made that statement." Mr. Strong told the court, that he himself, under the same similar circumstances, "would make the same threat."

When asked what, was said, Strong said that Bennett had told him that DeVitt had been fooling around with his wife, and that he was going to get him.

"Was that after the accused's daughter's death?" "Yes."

The court room was then cleared and shortly after adjourned till 10 a.m. Wednesday.

SON RECALLED

As the trial entered its second day considerable conflicting evidence arose as young Howard Bennett, fifteen-year-old son of the accused, was recalled to the stand Tuesday morning.

A rough plan of the former house —replaced by a new one in 1939—a 2 year sister to the alleged victim was presented in court, and it showed that the house was about 12 by 16 feet, with a lean-to addition.

Cross-examined by the defense counsel, J. R. McClure, the witness contradicted himself several times from the statements he made at the preliminary hearing held here last March.

McClure — "Jimmie—you went to a picture show last night?" "Yes."

"Did you have a good time?" "Yes."

"The whole family went?" "Yes." "You did not go to see your father?" "No."

Further evidence brought out that DeVitt was humorously called the Frog. When questioned on this by the defence, Jimmie said that DeVitt had been called that by his father because the latter had joked him.

McClure—"Isn't it a fact Jimmie, that he was called the Frog because he sat out on the road allowances and out in the bush?" "I never saw him sitting there."

"You used to pass DeVitt's place going to school?" "Yes."

"DeVitt used to give you messages to deliver. Were they sealed?" "No, just folded up."

"Who were they for?" "My mother."

"When did this take place?" "Between 1937 and 1938."

"You sometimes took eggs and bread to DeVitt's, did you not?" "Yes."

"How many times?" "Two or three times."

RAN DOWN HILL

"Now Jimmie, do you not recall the day when your mother ran down the hill from the garden into the house?" "Yes."

"Why did your mother run?" "Because DeVitt was out in the garden."

"Did she appear frightened?" "No, not to me."

Jimmy admitted on further questioning, that he did not know whether his mother was frightened or not. At the preliminary trial he had said she was frightened.

Jimmy also contradicted himself several times as to the exact spot the rifle was at the time of the shooting, on August 1st, 1938. Mr. Justice Tweedie asked the lad to tell the truth, and to say how the gun was. The lad replied he did not know.

"After the shot," asked McClure, "you do not know whether the body was moved or not before the hammer was brought out?" "No, I do not know."

"How many blows with the hammer was struck?" "Several."

"Where were you standing," asked His Worship. "Just behind my father, the young lad replied—just a couple of feet."

"He was swinging hard with the hammer, or just hitting?" "He was swinging hard."

Today's Sport Parade

—By Jack Guenther—

NEW YORK, May 20.—(BUP)—If that Brooklyn rooting section will kindly climb down out of the clouds we'll proceed today with the some-what delicate preparation of puncturing a beloved illusion. That is the news about the Dodgers becoming so suddenly strong and fabulously lucky that they have turned the National League pennant race into a simple runaway.

You've heard it, of course. For more than a week the good, gray experts have hailed the bums at 24-carat phenomenons. Which is an easy thing to do. The bums have won 25 games and lost but eight. They have swollen their percentage to a bloated .750. They have stretched their lead to seven games. And they are pitching and hitting like mad.

The experts have good reason to cheer, it is true. They also have short memories. Very short. For the same cheers have come from the same experts before and they have been showered on the same bums. And not so long ago, either. Unless the figures in a clipping book in front of me have suddenly rearranged themselves, it was just one yeaer ago.

JUST ABOUT SAME

Let's check these figures. Here is a set which will serve nicely. They inform me that on May 20, 1941, the Dodgers had won 22 games, lost nine and run up a percentage of .710. This information is quite pertinent because it means that exactly one year ago today, the bums had done just about all they have done to May 20, 1942.

For instance, they not only were within two games of where they are today in the standings, but they had scored 186 runs while giving up 106. They had pitched five shut outs and on six other occasions had limited their rivals to two runs or less. This year they have scored 186 runs, been tapped for 113 and have rung up only one shut out.

This is a pretty close fit; particularly close if you recall that this year the bums have engaged in two games more than they had played at the corresponding date last year. In fact, only one item is lacking to complete the case. Last year the Dodgers were only a few points ahead of the mob. This year they are far in front they are lonely. Actually, Brooklyn is traveling at almost exactly the same pace it set a year ago, and it is a good pace, certainly.

For some strange reason people overlook the fact that when the 1941 season ended the bums had a record of 100 wins against only 54 losses. The mighty Yankees had only a slightly better one—101 against 53.

Well, what do the figures prove? If Brooklyn is moving at the same rate, why is Brooklyn so far in front now when a year ago it was impossible to shake loose for even a couple of games? That one is easy. While Brooklyn has remained constant, the St. Louis Cardinals have dropped away. In 1941 the Cardinals were hot. This season they have caught cold.

Last year the National League race was a two-club race because the league contained two good teams. This year it is rapidly becoming a one-club race because there is only one good team. The Cardinals figured to fight for every game. Instead, they have run into more trouble than little Orphan Annie. They have less kick than a frosted lemonade.

NEW SOURCE STRENGTH

Brooklyn is strong. But when the season opened everyone knew Brooklyn was strong. Brooklyn has had luck. But Brooklyn has had both kinds of luck. At the last count rookie Ed Head and Curt Davis had combined to win ten games. Yet Hugh Casey and Whit Wyatt, who had won 12 at this point in 1941, have dropped off to four. One good break has balanced a bad one, no more.

It has been that way all along. Dolph Camilli has been on and off first base when he should be playing regularly. Arkie Vaughan fell 60 points from his life time figure for the first month and only recently has been hitting when it counted. And Higbe, a 22 game winner in 1941, has irrumpled only twice in these first six weeks of the season.

Add the gloomy features together and you can't insist Brooklyn is shot in yet, but unless St. Louis draws inspiration from something soon the race will remain a one-team affair. For the other six were 12 games or more away at the end of last season and they haven't been improved 12 games worth since.

Nine to 12 Probable Starters

Gidding's Ten To Ace Still Dominates King's Plate Field

TORONTO, May 20.—(CP))—All was confusion Tuesday night in the ranks of race followers trying to pick a thoroughbred to beat Harry Giddings' Ten to Ace in the 83rd running of the King's Plate at Woodbine Park here next Saturday.

Mrs. R. E. Webster's big (and mean) black gelding, Bill's Gift, was the reason. Chosen off training performances during the last few days as most likely contender for the plate victory commonly conceded to Ten To Ace, the Gift ran wild yesterday in his last stiff test before the big race.

The big black left the starting gate by the proper exit in his mile workout, but that's about all he did right. No ran a few strides along the track, then cut over to the outside rail and stayed there for most of the distance, where it was, with all the added running Bill's Gift took upon himself. Technically clocked for a mile, the time was 1:50 2-5.

The race, limited to three-year-olds foaled in Ontario, which have not won a race this year, carries an $8,000-added purse and the traditional 50 guineas presented by the King.

The field this year is expected to have between nine and 12 thoroughbreds although the official entry list will not be released until Friday. Almost certain to start are Bill's Gift, J. E. Smallman's Depressor, Ten To Ace, Jim Heffering's Clockike, W. H. Wright's Cossack Post, Bob Cowie's Muckle, G. M. Hendrie's Punta Rassa and Parkwood stables' Bhadagua.

Possible starters are J. E. Smallman's Ilsan and Khortoi and Parkwood's Valkyrian. Several others eligible have been training but are not likely to be named.

Babe Dahlgren Sold To Dodgers

BROOKLYN, May 20.—(AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers confounded most of the other major league clubs and their own players Tuesday by buying Ellsworth (Babe) Dahlgren from Chicago Cubs.

The purchase of the much-exchanged first and third baseman was surprising because Brooklyn had waived on him just a couple of weeks ago and because it increased the Dodger squad to four over the limit of 25 players which goes into effect May 25.

President L. S. MacPhail solved the latter problem last night, however, by optioning pitchers Chet Kehn and Bob Chipman and catcher Cliff Dapper to Montreal Royals of the International League subject to a 24-hour recall.

This will make it possible to make the player limit next week by converting Fred Fitzsimmons from a pitcher to a coach.

The Cubs sold Dahlgren to St Louis Browns last week but the Browns returned him to Chicago because of a disagreement over terms concerning the first baseman's possible entry into the armed forces.

McLaughlin Colt Hits Fast Company In Withers Stakes

NEW YORK, May 20.—(CP)—Every stake race has its dark horse and the 67th running of the $15,000 Withers stakes at Belmont Park Saturday is no exception. In fact dark horses are a dime a dozen.

Impressive in winning the Voters' handicap at Belmont last Saturday, Falaris, a chestnut colt bred in England from the King's Stables and owned by R. S. McLaughlin, Canadian motor magnate, is the latest possibility.

The three-year-old son of Fair Trial out of the Friar Marcus mare, Nunnery, showed himself to be a good horse here last fall as a two-year-old. Saturday he turned in one of his best performances in winning the Voters' from such seasoned sprinters as Dispose, Swing and Sway and Bimbo Rock.

The Ontario colt will face all the prominent three-year-olds which commence in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness. They include Al Sabath's Alsab, winner of the Preakness and second in the Kentucky classic; Greentree stables' Devil Diver and possibly Shut Out, winner of the Derby.

Other probables which will complete a field of eight or 10 starters include Apache, Fair Call, First Fiddle, Dodpatch and Domingo.

Sport Shorts From Britain

LONDON, May 20.—(CP)—Four Blackheath Harriers, together again for the first time since start of the war, face their longest and toughest run if they're to be home before war ends. They are in a prison camp in Germany.

These four of the 250 Blackheath Harriers in the armed forces are Capt. H. Sewell and Lieuts. L. D. Lee, E. A. Gleeson and J. G. Lymbery. Lee was captured at Dunkerque, Sewell in Greece, Gleeson and Lymbery at Crete. Another Harrier, L.Bdr. N. J. Gilling, also is a prisoner but in a different camp. He works in a coal mine.

It's not cricket!

Sheep are grazing on the grounds of the Northamptonshire County Cricket Club. There's no gas to run the motorized mowers or for spectators to drive to see matches so maintenance of the ground largely has been abandoned until after the war.

It is cricket:

Fans will get a glimpse this season of two outstanding Australian cricketers. PO C. W. Walker and Sgt. R. G. Gregory, in England with the Royal Australian Air Force. They played in two test matches against England in 1936-37.

Colan Victory Means Title Shot

CHICAGO, May 20. — (AP) — Johnny Colan, 20-year-old, two-fisted lad who learned to fight in New York's "Hell's Kitchen," guns for recognition as a challenger for the lightweight championship tonight far from the scene of his fistic schooling.

The rough and tough New Yorker, winner of 38 of his 42 bouts, will battle Anton Christoforidis of Cleveland, in a 10-round bout in the Chicago Stadium. A knockout victory over the Greek warrior, who already has won and lost the 175-pound title, would move Colan into a title showdown with Gus Lesnevich, the present champion.

The match probably will attract a crowd of 10,000 with receipts around $25,000.

Twilight Game

BROOKLYN, May 20. — (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers, forced to cancel their night games because of the army's dim-out regulations, announced yesterday they would play the Phils in a twilight contest Monday, starting at 6 p.m. E.W.T. The game originally was scheduled to open the Dodgers' series of 14 nocturnal games.

OTTAWA, May 20.—(CP) — Des Smith of Ottawa, defenceman with Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, said last night he expects to start a pre-enlistment course as a pilot observer in the Royal Canadian Air Force by June 1. He passed his medical examination this week.

W. H. "Bill" Brinkworth, Jasper, long recognized as an authority on greens, has just received the appointment as professional at the Jasper Park Lodge course. The Edmonton Golf and Country Club course was constructed under Bill's watchful eye.

Opportune Hitting Greatest Need Of Cardinals, Browns

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—(AP)—The two St. Louis major league entries —the Cardinals and the Browns—are having strikingly similar fortunes so far this season. As Mike Gonzales, the Cards' Cuban coach, would say, they're getting "good pitch, no hit."

The Cardinals' 18-4 victory over New York Giants Monday for a season scoring mark served only to emphasize their general ineffectiveness at the plate. They have been held to two or less runs in 12 games and have been shut out five times.

The Cardinals' inability to make headway in the National League pennant race can't be blamed on their pitching. The hurling staff is probably the best in the majors in holding opposing teams to 109 runs in 31 games, an average of 3.5 runs a game.

Failure to get just one single sometimes loses a game. With the Browns, that one hit has been missing all too frequently and, in addition, inability to sacrifice has been costly.

The team has lost 20 games, but only four have been dropped by margins of three or more runs. Nine have been lost by one.

Fight Draw

NEW YORK, May 20—(AP)—Joe Parella, 133¾, of Tomaqua, Pa. recent conqueror of Chalky Wright, and Bobby Ruffin, 134¾, Long Island scrapper, drew last night in a furious 10-round bout at the Bronx Coliseum.

Ruffin piled up a big edge in the early frames only to have Parella spurt through the final five frames.

Arrows Drawn Against Dodgers

Baseball in Edmonton will get its official send-off for 1942 at Renfrew Park next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to the schedule released by senior league officials on Tuesday night.

Those old rivals, Arrows and Dodgers, drew the opening assignment, while the Hornets, the team from Aircraft Repairs, will make their bow the following Wednesday, playing against Cal. Pickles' 1941 champions.

The schedule provides for a totalo of 24 games, the last of which is Aug 26 and each club accordingly will play 16, eight of which are designated as home games.

Wednesdays and Sundays have been chosen as playing days throughout the season and the teams will thus get one and two games on alternate weeks.

According to advance information the three teams in the Edmonton Senior Baseball League should be fairly well matched. Arrows and Dodgers can always be depended upon to furnish a good brand of ball and undoubtely Jim Kelly intends coming up with an aggregation which will be able to hold its own.

Coaches George Green of the Dodgers and Dick Speer of the Arrows are both using some junior talent along with more experienced players and no doubt Jim Kelly will do the same whenever he has the opportunity.

V

In any event the season promises to be one of the best in several years and with a good brand of baseball in prospect there would appear to be no reason why the new three-team league which is taking the place of the General Alberta loop should not experience a real bang-up year.

Brinkworth, Goldsworthy In Charge Of Golf At Jasper

WINNIPEG, Man., May 20.—News of interest to the golfing fraternity of western Canada is the announcement here today by Robert Sommerville, general manager of Canadian National hotels, that W. H. "Bill" Brinkworth has been appointed golf professional and greenskeeper at Jasper Park Lodge.

A second appointment of more than passing interest is that of Leroy Goldsworthy, of Edmonton, as assistant golf professional.

Brinkworth is now a permanent resident of Jasper, while Goldsworthy will report for duty a few days prior to the opening of the Lodge on June 15.

Bill Brinkworth is a veteran of the golf links and is known in the United States as well as from coast to coast in Canada. A few years ago he was given the greenskeepers' "V.C." when he was rewarded with a gold medal by the American Greenskeepers' Association, only two of which are awarded in any one year. They are issued in recognition of a greenskeeper's ability to keep his golf course at the highest possible peak of efficiency.

Prior to coming to Jasper several years ago, "Brink" was with the Edmonton Golf and Country Club and laid out the new nine holes which proved such a valuable addition to Alberta golf circles. He has been greenskeeper for some years and this year takes over the professional duties as well, replacing Charlie Duncan, who has resumed full time work in the railway shops.

Goldsworthy is well known in both Canada and the United States, especially in hockey circles, having several years in the National Hockey League with the Boston Bruins and the New York Americans. Last winter he was located at Dallas, Texas, where he coached the local professional hockey team. "Goldie" was also a baseball player of note and pitched for the Winnipeg Maroons in the Northern League a few years ago. He was a dangerous hitter and an all round useful ball player.

The last two summers he spent at Elk Island, where he was professional at the golf course located in the national park.

Reports from Jasper are that the course has come through in excellent shape and is now in splendid condition for play.

Civil Service Tennis Opening

The Civil Service Tennis Club is holding its annual get-acquainted day on Monday, May 25. A mixed round-robin tournament is being arranged. There is no entry fee, but each member is asked to bring a prize not more than twenty-five cents.

All members, both the veterans at the club and the newcomers, are very welcome to the inaugural.

To Jasper

Prominent Edmonton golfer and hockey player, Leo Roy Goldsworthy, will shortly be leaving the city to take up his new duties as assistant professional at Jasper Park Lodge, "Goldie" had charge of Elk Island Park golf course for the past two summers. Last winter he was manager-coach of the Dallas hockey club in the American Association.

Avenue Bowlers Holding Tourney

A mixed tournament will be held at Alberta Ave. lawn bowling green on Monday, May 25, commencing at 1 p.m. Five games are assured and entry may be made by rink or individual.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

BROOKLYN, May 20.— (AP) — Brooklyn Dodgers barged to their eighth straight victory Tuesday with an easy 9-1 decision over Chicago Cubs.

Curt Davis pitched six-hit ball and for the second successive game the only run scored against Brooklyn was a homer—this one by Phil Cavarretta in the eighth inning. It was Davis' fifth victory against one defeat.

The Dodgers showed little respect for big Bill Lee, who had won five games and lost only one in making a great comeback this spring. They tapped him for nine hits, including a home run and triple by Joe Medwick, each good for two runs.

3,360 SEE RELIEF GAME

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—(AP)—Scoring all their runs in the eighth inning, Phils defeated Pittsburgh 3-1 in a twilight game Tuesday played before 3,360 fans as a benefit for the Army-Navy Relief Fund.

Gerald P. Nugent, President of the Phils, announced that $3,722 was realized from a paid attendance. Club officials said this figure did not include any percentage from the concessions which will be added later.

Club officials said they doubted if overcast skies several hours previous to game time was a factor in the small attendance.

With one out in the eighth Merrill May batted into Pitcher Johnny Podgajny and singled. Lloyd Waner followed with a single and Harry Marine, who ran for May, scored on Danny Murtaugh's double. Danny Litwhiler cleared the bases with a triple and Alban Allen singled sent him with the fifth run off Max Butcher.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

DETROIT, May 20.—(AP)—Behind the six-hit pitching of southpaw Hal Newhouser, who will be 21 years old today, Detroit Tigers Tuesday tightened their grip on the American League's third place by defeating Boston's challenging Red Sox 3-2.

Newhouser held Boston hitless until Johnny Pesky beat out a bunt to open the seventh inning. By that time the Tigers had blasted rookie Yank Terry for five runs on six hits. The most important blow was Rip Radcliffe's first 1942 hit, a three-run homer in the opening frame. Barney McCosky tripled two more across in the fifth.

ROOKIES CAME THROUGH

CLEVELAND, May 20.—(AP)—Cleveland Indians tossed the "kid battery" of pitcher Red Embree and catcher Jim Hegan at Philadelphia Athletics today, and the rookie Tribesmen came through with a four-hit, 4-1 triumph.

As a result of their eighth victory in nine starts, the Indians moved a half game ahead of the idle New York Yankees who still lead the American League, however, in the percentage column, .600 to .588.

POPULAR GREETING

The most widely used greeting among mankind is most rubbing. More peoples use it than the combined devotees of handshaking and kissing.

Ed. Head, Young Left-Hander, Leads Dodger Hurlers

BROOKLYN, May 20.—(AP)—The leading pitcher of the National League right now is a rookie whom Brooklyn Dodgers were not even certain could stick with the team when they came north last month.

Winner of five games without a defeat, 22-year-old Ed Head started out to be a lefthander and finally came to the majors as a right-hander—because of an accident.

When he was 15 years old his left arm was crushed in a bus wreck while he was travelling with his high school baseball team. The youngster's vision of a diamond career also was shattered, but he learned to throw righthanded and began playing first base and in the outfield.

The lure of pitching brought him back to the mound and his dazzling fast ball brought him to the attention of major league scouts. But even though he had tremendous speed, he had little idea where the ball was going.

He won 19 and lost 8 for Abbeville in the Evangeline League in 1937 at the beginning of his climb. In 1940 he won 12 and lost 7 in approximately half a season with the Dodgers' Elmira farm in the Eastern League and in the middle of the summer Brooklyn called him in.

His debut in Flatbush was a surprise assignment to start a night game against Pirates. In the first two innings he gave up four walks and three hits and was excused. But the evening.

He spent all of last season at Montreal, winning 18 and losing 8 during the regular season and winning two more in the Little World series.

But even when he went to camp this spring he still was what the Dodger coaches call a "pumper."

"I got a great break this spring," Head said. "Fred Fitzsimmons took me aside one day and gave me a little talk. He told me every time I threw the ball to have some definite idea where I was trying to get it—how inside, low outside, high outside, or wherever I wanted."

"That's what I have been doing and almost all of a sudden I was able to put it in there."

Aircraft Repair Beaten By 19-9

Centrals stretched their unbeaten record in the City Senior Softball League to three straight by outscoring Aircraft Repair 19-9 at Kingsway Park on Tuesday night.

Jack Jackowich set away nicely for the first two frames and had the Aircrafters coasting along four runs ahead, but trouble then developed and he and his catcher, Lee Meek, had a total of 11 errors to contend with from then on.

Dave Rae started out a trifle wild, but settled down after the second and with plenty of power to assist didn't have much to worry about after the boys got rolling.

Dick Noon poked out a homer in the fourth and Dave drove one right over the scoreboard in the sixth to earn the pair of smackers offered for that feat.

Nip Gray was top batsman for the night in quantity with three hits and Ross McBeth celebrated what might be his last game for a while by starring a brace of doubles which drove in three counters.

Ernie Heard, catcher for Aircrafts, had two for two and playing without a mask suffered an eye injury from a foul tip in the fourth.

The losers grabbed off one run in the first on two walks, an error and Vic Corriveau's hit and they added a quartet in the next frame.

A pair of errors, an attempted steal, along with a walk and Heard's single combined with Tommy Foran's triple boosted the score to 5-1, but the Aircraft boys forgot the game was still young and let the opposition count five times in the third.

Consecutive hits by Gray, Superstein, Wheatfield, Whelpley and Bartoshe sent the Centrals one run up. Heard's hit, plus a fair sprinkling of errors resulted in the count being tied in the fourth, but from then on Aircrafts gradually slipped, allowing Centrals to count in all of the other innings.

Gurney Foundry Company Is Celebrating 100th Anniversary This Month

The Gurney Foundry Co. Ltd., oldest heating equipment manufacturing concern in Canada, is 100 years old this month.

Two young men, Edward and Charles Gurney, came to Canada from Pennsylvania about 1840, and in 1842 rented premises at the corner of King William and John streets in Hamilton. Their assets consisted of some kits of moulders' tools, a thorough knowledge of the moulding trade, and—more important still—ambition and vision.

In their little plant they built heating stoves to order. There are two good stoves standing in the Gurney showrooms today, carrying the dates 1843 and 1850, which are monuments to the cleverness and proficiency of the Gurney brothers in the stove-making art.

Cooking facilities in many homes of that day consisted of an open hearth with hooks on which pots were suspended. Space heating was accomplished by the same method. The Gurney enterprise did much to bring about the modern swing to stoves, and later to subsequent up-to-date methods which have become commonplace today.

In the early days of their establishment, there were no railroads. The founders had to mould, clean, grind and assemble their own castings into stoves, and then deliver them by wheelbarrow around Hamilton, or load them on a wagon for selling tours in the newly-opened territories of Wentworth, Halton, and adjacent counties. They took in exchange produce, lumber, or anything that was available.

MOVE TO TORONTO

The business grew and prospered. It was then known as "E. & C. Gurney." When Edward, Jr., son of Edward the founder, joined the company, it was changed to "E. & C. Gurney & Company." This was early in the sixties, and before he had been with the company very long, Edward, Jr., began to advocate establishment of a Toronto plant and warehouse. His father eventually agreed, with the result that a branch plant was erected in Toronto in 1866, on the site of what is now known as 500 King Street West.

An interesting sidelight on this event is the story that when he had visited the new plant for the first time, Edward Gurney Sr., remarked: "You have located too far out of town, and besides, you'll never live to see the day when you can make and sell enough stoves to fill this warehouse." The growth of Toronto and the rapid expansion of the Gurney business outgrew both of these prophecies before many years had passed.

In 1873, feeling that opportunities for expansion might be greater in the larger city, the company discontinued the Hamilton business and moved to Toronto. Edward Sr., and Edward Jr., were the active heads, and Edward Jr., was made president. Charles Gurney decided to stay in Hamilton, where he formed and operated the Gurney-Tilden Company which was well known for many years.

About this time, the company was incorporated under the name "Gurney Foundry Co. Ltd.", the name by which it is known today.

The organization's first output in 1842 consisted of heating stoves, but the line of equipment has steadily expanded over the century to include the many well-known Gurney products of today.

Warm air furnaces have been manufactured by Gurney since about 1869, and in recent years this division of the company has added air conditioning equipment.

The first round cast iron heating boiler to be produced in America was cast in the Toronto Gurney plant in 1882. It was the forerunner of many thousands of Gurney boilers which have since given service in Canada and the United States.

Cast iron sectional radiators were built from 1890 forward, although from about 1885, the "Bundy" type radiator—well remembered by oldtimers of the heating industry—had been made by Gurney.

After establishment of the Toronto plant in 1866, expansion of the Gurney business was rapid. In 1872 the King St., manufacturing facilities had to be enlarged, and a beginning was made on the group of buildings which now stand on the property. Subsequent enlargement finally covered most of a good-sized city block.

In 1902 still greater capacity was found necessary. Land was purchased in West Toronto, and the erection of a fine boiler and radiator plant was completed in 1903. In 1912, more land having been purchased, an addition was made to the foundry, together with the installation of one of the largest cupolas in Canada. A new core shop was built, which became a model of its kind on the continent. This plant, now the headquarters of the company since the King Street property was vacated in 1931, covers about 15 acres of land.

TEN-ACRE SITE

When the West Toronto plant was opened in 1903, it was devoted to the company's boiler and radiator business, while the manufacture of stoves was continued at King street with enlarged stove equipment and personnel to cope with expansion of the stove business. Seventeen years later, in 1920, the stove business had grown to such proportions that larger manufacturing capacity was found necessary. A ten-acre site and works were secured on the outskirts of Montreal to be used as a stove plant. In conjunction with this establishment, a porcelain enamel plant for enamelled stove parts was set up. Today the company's gas, coal and electric stoves are all made at the Montreal plant.

From 1872 until 1893, the company's operations in Quebec province were carried on with branch office and warehouse in Montreal, under the name "E. & C. Gurney Company," but in the latter year a subsidiary corporation known as Gurney-Massey Co. Ltd. was formed. This charter is still active, although the Montreal stove plant operates directly as a Gurney Foundry Co. Ltd. plant.

The Winnipeg office and warehouse were opened by the company in the late nineties. In 1907, a company was chartered under the name "Gurney North West Foundry Co. Ltd.," which still handles the Gurney interests in Manitoba.

The Vancouver branch office and warehouse date back to 1900. Today, this branch deals only in stoves and furnaces, since the company's boiler and radiator business in B.C. is handled by Alcock Downing & Wright Ltd. of Vancouver, acting as agents.

UNITED STATES INTERESTS

This brief record would not be complete without reference to the company's former United States interests. Shortly after Gurney had produced America's first cast iron round boiler, Edward Gurney, Jr., took some of the boilers to the New England States and sold them through an agent in Boston. Later, arrangements were made to have the boilers manufactured in a Boston foundry operated—strangely enough—by a man named Frank Gurney, no relation to the Canadian Gurneys.

Records show that in 1887 the boilers were still being sold by a Boston agency, but some time prior to 1895 a selling firm was organized there under the name "Gurney Heater Manufacturing Co. Inc." This concern handled the sale of Gurney products and acted as a jobbing house for kindred heating lines until, in 1912, the company built a plant in South Framingham, Mass., about 30 miles from Boston. This plant was copied largely from the West Toronto plant, and it was entirely owned and operated by the Gurney family. In 1928 it was sold to the National Radiator Corporation, from which time Edward Gurney concentrated full attention on their extensive interests in Canada.

Edward Gurney, Sr., co-founder of the company, died in 1885. Edward, Jr., was president for more than forty years, and during his term of office many significant progressive developments both in the art of heating and in the company's business took place. He died in 1916, and the presidency was then assumed by his elder son, Cromwell Gurney.

Three years later, Cromwell Gurney died and his younger brother E. Holl Gurney, who had been thoroughly trained in all departments of the organization since coming with the firm after his graduation from university in 1903, was elected president.

E. Holl Gurney, president of The Gurney Foundry Co. Ltd., since 1919, is engaged on work of extreme value to Canada. For the duration of the war his time and experience have been donated to the government. For the past two years his entire activities have been devoted to the presidency and operation of an important government-owned war plant in Eastern Canada.

With him on this vital work are several key men of the Gurney organization, including M. L. "Red" Doelman, formerly Toronto plant superintendent and now plant manager of the war factory; Edward Gurney, son of he late Cromwell Gurney and a director of the company; Cliff Gilbert and Harry Williams from the Toronto staff, and Alex Pierie from the Montreal plant. These men and the hundreds of workers associated with them are doing a marvellous job turning out thousands of tons of war implements. The plant is the largest of its kind in the countries of the Allied Nations.

PRESENT OFFICERS

In Mr. Gurney's absence, other officers of the company are efficiently carrying on its affairs. Geoffrey B. Beatty, executive vice-president, is in charge. Associated actively with him are Albert W. Givin, vice-president in charge of sales; Roy Oaten, secretary-treasurer; A. E. Sweeting and T. E. Nichol, company directors. As previously noted, Edward Gurney is also a director, and the late W. R. G. Gibson, who died a few weeks ago, was also a director to the time of his death.

Completion of their first century finds the Gurney organization busily engaged in marking a number of notable contributions to Canada's war program. The head of the company and several key men are giving full time to operations quite outside their normal activities. In the Gurney plants, along with production of regular lines for war buildings and essential civilian requirements, the company is also producing many thousands of "bits and pieces" war parts for which its equipment is particularly suited.

The company's pioneering work, development and growth of the past hundred years have set an honorable and creditable record of achievement. Starting with two lads in a shop scarcely larger than a stable, the enterprise has become nation-wide with between 600 and 700 employees, and the Gurney name has become a household word identified with heating and cooking in every corner of Canada.

The company enters its second century with good wishes of the industry it has served long and well, facing the future with determination and confidence. The Gurney objective, enthusiastically endorsed by all officers and employees, is twofold; first, to make a wholehearted effort in every possible way toward victory of our common cause, and second, to jealously guard the traditions which have inspired this ever-youthful and aggressive organization in all its contributions to the business growth of Canada.

Rural Gasoline Stations To Open One Night Week

OTTAWA, May 20.—(CP)—Gasoline stations in rural areas more than five miles from a city will be allowed to remain open one evening a week, Munitions Minister Howe announced in the House of Commons late yesterday.

Relaxation of the seven o'clock closing order was being made for the convenience of farmers who found it difficult to make gasoline purchases during the day, the minister said.

WAR DEBATE

Offensive Against Nazis To Come In "Due Course" Attlee Promises Critics

LONDON, May 20.—(CP)—Dominions Secretary Clement Attlee yesterday told a critical House of Commons that offensive action would be taken against Germany "in due course" and that if the government found the machinery for control of the armed services needed changes there would be no hesitation in carrying them out.

A number of members called Mr. Attlee's address "A schoolboy essay," and demanded that Prime Minister Churchill himself appear to answer criticism of the war policy. But Sir Stafford Cripps, government leader in the house, said Mr. Churchill would not participate in the debate.

As the debate opened public agitation for invasion of Europe was gathering force, led by Lord Beaverbrook's newspapers.

London's walls were plastered with posters advertising a mass meeting in Trafalgar Square May 24, at which Emanuel Shinwell, the Seaham Labor M.P., is due to call for early dispatch for armies to the continent.

NO COMMITMENTS

Mr. Attlee refused to say when a western front might be opened, but declared:

"You may be sure that possibility is in our minds and that it is in the minds of the German high command.

"Every month increases our strength . . . in due course we shall [illegible] change from the defensive, which we still have to hold in many areas, to the offensive."

His reference to growing strength came a few hours after announcement that United States soldiers in Northern Ireland had been heavily reinforced and within a week of the arrival of new contingents for the Canadian army in Britain.

No Evidence Of Eugen's Damage

LONDON, May 20.—(CP)—An authoritative source said today there is no evidence at present of the extent of damage caused to the German cruiser Prinz Eugen in the torpedo-plane and bomber attack Sunday night nor is there information about her whereabouts.

He asserted that generally speaking Germany made its warships better able to withstand torpedo attacks than Britain.

The reason, he said, is that British ships have to be designed for long periods at sea under all kinds of climatic conditions and can not be cut up into as many subdivisions as German ships.

CANADIAN STYLES 100 years ago

A MASQUERADE, you ask? No! These were the prevailing costumes of a century ago. Perhaps a little elegant—certainly very cumbersome—but they were quality clothes made from fine materials and were tailored to last for years.

100 years ago, E. and C. Gurney began to make and sell their stoves in Canada. Little did they dream the name "Gurney" would one day become as famous through Canada for its high quality as the fashions of a now-forgotten era.

Today, in small towns and large cities, women prepare their families' meals on Gurney Ranges; tiny cottages and large modern hotels are blessed with the same comfort and economy of Gurney cooking and heating equipment.

For 100 years, the name "Gurney" has symbolized the finest in cooking and heating equipment. Today the name "Gurney" on such equipment is a solemn promise that the present and future generations will be as faithfully served by Gurney Products as have our forefathers, in the first hundred years of Gurney's history.

GURNEY ON WAR FRONT

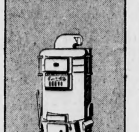

The knowledge and experience of Gurney in connection with heating and cooking problems in military camps, barracks, buildings, etc., has been at the service of the Government since the first day of war. Gurney installations are to be found in military establishments of every type in every part of Canada.

INCREASE OF $743.68 REPORTED

Daylight Saving Boosts Lighting Costs City Schools

24 Teachers Appointed To Permanent Posts At Board Meeting Tuesday

Establishment of daylight saving time in Edmonton has resulted in an increased expenditure for electric lights in city schools of $743.68 since the first of the year against last year's figures for the same period, it was reported at a meeting of the property committee of the board, Tuesday night.

Supt. of plant, J. M. McAfee, told committee members that necessity for turning on the light in city schools one hour earlier has resulted in an increase in lighting costs in almost every one of the 36 city schools. He suggested that the lack of snow, which generally reflects light, during the past winter might also have been responsible to some degree for increased costs.

Cost of lighting from January to March of this year was $3,595.52, against $2,851.84 in the same period in 1941.

Report on maintenance costs showed $11,298.80 of the $36,000 appropriation for the year.

CONCERT AT SCHOOL

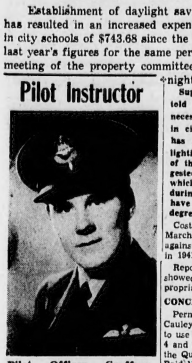

Permission was granted the McCauley Concert group of Edmonton to use the McCauley school on June 4 and 5 to hold a concert in aid of the Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid Victims. Chairman W. G. McConachie stated that the group has to date raised approximately $2,500 for the fund through concerts.

Following a complaint received regarding the condition of the Walterdale Community Hall, it was agreed that the board be urged to advertise the building for sale. It is reported to be in bad condition, and "more or less a fire trap". The Walterdale Community League have relinquished use of it.

Wounded, Decorated City Nurse Praises Red Cross Achievements

By FRANCOISE MARTIN

After serving for four years, with four national groups of the International Red Cross Society, and being cared for by it for wounds received in action, Mrs. Byron Morrison, 10231 110 street, is a staunch supporter of both the war-time and peace-time programs of the Red Cross.

"The Red Cross is a symbol of the alleviation of the sick and wounded wherever it holds up its head," she declared in an interview Friday. "I am sure that just as it did after the last war, so after this one it will work untiringly in all warborn countries to bring good and help the suffering."

While serving under fire at the Edith Cavell hut in the forward area she was wounded in June, 1917, and was the first nurse on the western front to receive the Croix de Guerre from the French government. She was decorated the following June by General Noillett, of the French general staff.

DRAMATIC STORY

Hers is a dramatic story, both in the active part she took as a forward area nurse and in the care given her by the International Red Cross during her hospitalization and convalescence.

She was one of a group of 10 nurses from eastern Canada who were sent by the Canadian Nurses' Association as a volunteer unit to serve with the British Red Cross in co-operation with the French government. She was then Sister Madelon Jaffary, of Toronto. She married in 1927 Byron Morrison, also a veteran of the war, who served with the 49th Battalion.

She served for six months at the Red Cross hospital at Bordeaux, on the French coast. The hospital was at the time the only French train-

Spokesmen for the hotelmen said Wednesday the question would be dealt with as quickly and judicious-ly as possible.

THE QUESTION:

"Do you think salutes should be abolished except during military parades?"

THE ANSWERS:

KENNETH McKKENZIE, solicitor: I think that an arrangement whereby saluting was abolished except during parades would be a great relief for most officers.

"TED" BISHOP, solicitor: It should be confined to military quarters. On Monday next he will report to the Edmonton R.C.A.F. Manning depot. During his terms at the University of Alberta he served for five years in the C.O.T.C.

* * *

LYALL ROPER, printer: I certainly agree with such a suggestion, particularly in the larger cities where there are so many officers and men in His Majesty's forces. It's come to the point whether neither an officer nor a private can walk down the street like a human being, without raising his arm every few yards to salute.

* * *

M. J. HILTON, principal: Except for ceremonial purposes, I think no harm would come of abolishing salutes, and I imagine that most officers would be thankful if they didn't have to salute except while in military quarters or on parade.

Nearly 6,000 Enlisted Here Since War's Start In Air Force Branches

Nearly 6,000 men have enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in Edmonton since the start of the war, it was announced at No. three recruiting centre headquarters Wednesday.

The exact number enlisting here since September, 1939, is 5,641. An interesting feature concerning air force enlistments, and one that comes as a surprise to most people, is the fact rural areas have supplied 35 per cent of the total, with cities and large towns sending 45 per cent.

Recruits have been from every walk of life. Universities, schools, offices, factories, farms, lumber camps and mines have all sent representatives to the air force.

And as the big air offensive against the Axis gets under way, more and more pilots, observers, wireless operators and air gunners are required.

STILL GOING

The British Commonwealth Air Training Plan is a $900,000,000 project and has still to attain its upper limits.

Pilot training takes an average of 32 weeks, in addition to time spent at a manning depot. Wireless operator air gunners train for 28 weeks.

Wireless operator air gunners receive on graduation as sergeant air gunners, $3.20 per day and 20 per cent of the graduating personnel qualify for commissions.

Chamber Honors Two Noted Airmen

Two former local airmen who now hold two important positions in the Canadian Pacific Airlines were honored at a special luncheon of the Aviation Committee of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday afternoon.

The two guests of honor were Grant McConachie, general manager of the C.P. Airlines, and C. H. "Punch" Dickins, vice-president of the same company. Charles Garneti, committee chairman, presided.

Mr. Dickins paid tribute to the progress in aviation that is being made in Edmonton and expressed appreciation to the Chamber aviation committee for their interest in the general development.

Getting Around with
Jack DeLong

Using bombs for saving human life instead of destroying it in time of war is really something to marvel about. Yet that's exactly what was done with great success in an island of the Hawaiian group recently.

When the volcano Mauna Lao erupted last month, a great wall of lava advanced in the direction of the storied city of Hilo. The water supply of Hilo was threatened. Out over this menacing sea of molten death roared a flight of United States Army bombers.

Bombs were dropped according to a carefully worked out plan. The flow of lava was turned and the city saved.

Perhaps there'll be peacetime jobs for even the deadly bomber after the war. Although the idea

Red Cross Drive Half Way Mark

Nearing the half-way mark, contributions to the Canadian Red Cross Society drive for funds in northern Alberta have reached $77,984.57 of the $160,000 quota, it is stated Wednesday by campaign officials.

Of that amount $21,500 has been donated from country points, and city collections have totalled $56,484.57, of which $22,298.50 was contributed during Tuesday. The drive will continue until the end of the month.

Federal Home Loans For Returned Soldiers Urged At Canadian Legion Meet

That individual loans not exceeding $3,500 be made available by the Dominion government to ex-soldiers for the purpose of building homes, was urged in a resolution passed at the monthly meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion Tuesday.

The resolution, read to the meeting by its sponsor, H. T. Dunkley, will be forwarded to Winnipeg and introduced at the annual convention of the Canadian Legion, that opens Sunday.

Preamble of the resolution sets forth there will be a large number of ex-soldiers who will have no interest in the farm settlement scheme being carried out by the federal government. There are many returned men who are not suited by training or inclination to farming, it was pointed out.

FOR MARRIED MEN

It was urged therefore that the government extend to honorably discharged members of the services the privilege of purchasing lots in residential districts at nominal prices, based on the public buying price, and that no taxes be charged on such lots for one year.

This privilege would be extended on condition that a suitable home, in conformity with the district be built. A sum not exceeding $3,500 should then be loaned the ex-soldier, providing that no transfer or sale be made without the permission of the government.

Edmonton Legion branch will co-operate fully with city military authorities to make "Army Week," to be observed throughout the dominion from June 29 to July 5, a success. The Legion has already notified Lt.-Col E. Brown, M.M., E.D., of its readiness to assist in any way.

Parades of active service and reserve army units are planned and units from the United States and other United Nations' forces will participate wherever possible.

The Legion signed up 24 new members since the last meeting and the branch now has a total membership of 783.

PICTURES SHOWN

Motion pictures from the department of extension at the University of Alberta, were shown at the completion of the business session.

Vice-President J. McLean was in the chair in the absence of President H. Tanner, who is a delegate to the dominion Legion convention.

Province Asks Federal Help On Breakwater

The provincial government is seeking financial assistance from the federal government in the reconstruction of the Highwood River breakwater, which was washed out in the recent High River flood, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works said Wednesday. The breakwater is located seven miles west of the town of High River.

The minister said the province was asking the Dominion to pay 80 per cent of the cost of the work.

It is estimated loss to the provincial government from flood damage will be approximately $300,000. Government engineer are now surveying the damage, but repair work cannot be started until the flood waters recede.

The Highwood River breakwater was constructed about 10 years ago at a cost of about $60,000, of which the federal government paid a part.

Gasoline Sales Likely To Drop

Gasoline sales for April will likely show a drop as compared with the figure for the same month a year ago, due to rationing regulations, it was reported Wednesday by the provincial secretary's department.

With reference to the fact that sales for the first four months of this year had shown an increase over the corresponding period in 1941, officials pointed out this was largely due to heavy buying of gasoline during March before the rationing came into effect. Rationing regulations were effective April 1.

Twice In Love If Marriage Is Happy

The Second Time Husband and Wife Don't Expect the Impossible of Each Other; They Find the Real Qualities at Last

In every successful marriage the husband and wife fall in love with each other twice. The first love affair is founded on illusion. Boy meets girl and all is circling wings and trailing clouds of glory. They know they were made for each other and that their marriage will be a grand, sweet song, with never a discordant note in it. He sees her as a being of unearthly perfection, and she beholds in him her Fairy Prince.

Dorothy Dix

So they are married; but it isn't long before their pink chiffons of romance begins to show signs of wear and tear and to frazzle out around the edges. They wake up from their trance and what we call the disillusion of marriage takes place. They take their first good, long, appraising look at each other and wonder what ever made them think they wanted to spend the next thirty or forty years together.

He sees Geraldine with her complexion off and cold cream on and her many imperfections thick upon her. She beholds Tom unshaven and shorn, with fussy little ways and given to saying brutal things about the coffee. Both of them see marriage stretching before them as a long rocky road that is going to be hard to travel, instead of the flowery pathway that they thought it would be.

GOOD FOR LONG PULL

Probably there is not one bridal couple in a thousand who, during what is ironically called the honeymoon, have not regretted their marriage and been on the point, a dozen times over, of packing up their doll rags and going back to Mother. Many do throw up their hands and quit, for statistics show that divorce is much more common among the young than it is among their elders, and that if a marriage lasts five years the chances are that it will be good for the long pull.

The reason for this is that after the boy and girl glamour love is as dead as a coffin nail the husband and wife fall in love with each other for a second time, and this love lasts because it is founded on fact instead of fiction. They no longer expect the impossible of marriage or of each other. They have ceased to years after thrills and high-pressure sentiment. For they have found out that they would get as sick of the grand passion as they would of a daily diet of chocolate creams.

Curiously enough, husbands and wives fall in love with each other for the second time for entirely different qualities than those that inspired their first love. A girl's pretty face may have caught a boy's eye, or a girl may have been swept off her feet by a boy's dashing air. But what a man loves his wife for is not her peaches-and-cream complexion, but her tenderness and devotion and his knowledge that if all the world turned against him she would still stand faithfully by his side. And what a wife falls in love with her husband for is not because he looks like a cinema hero, but because in every line of his tired face and his sagging shoulders she reads the story of his selfless toil to keep his safe and warm, and stand between her and hardship.

To the on-looker the middle-aged men and women, who have lost their figures and whatever allure of youth they may once have had, and don't even look each other Ma and Pa, may not seem figures of romance. But the husband who never looks at his wife's work-knotted hands without thinking of how many shirts she has washed for him and how many dinners she has cooked for him, and who never sees his wife's faded eyes without remembering the sleepless nights she has spent watching over his sick bed; and the wife who never looks at her fat and baldheaded old husband without thinking of all the sacrifices that he has made for her and the children, are the only ones, in reality, who ever know the full beauty and grandeur of married love.

It is because this second blooming of love brings with it so much more happiness than the first that it is a pity that the young have not the patience to wait for it.

These Recipes Are Handy For Wedding Meals

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

High noon is the best hour for the spring wedding breakfast. It should be a sit-down affair and reasonably informal. For an evening wedding, where a substantial sit-down reception menu is required, use the same food as you would for the high noon breakfast.

However, for a menu following a very early morning wedding — eight or nine o'clock, you should serve a real breakfast, consisting of fruit cup, ham and eggs, toast and rolls, potatoes, coffee and tea and sections of fruit as a "sweet."

That's advice of Margery Wilson, etiquette and charm authority. Here are some of her own recipes for the substantial wedding breakfast menu:

As a main dish, she suggests ham with candied sweet potatoes and a tossed green salad. You might buy a pre-cooked ham, requiring only an hour to finish it.

Bake a syrup of brown sugar, cider vinegar and ground, mixed cloves; pour this into about twenty knife-holes which you will have made in the ham. Then baste the whole ham with the mixture two or three times while it is in the oven.

WATCH CAREFULLY TO AVOID BURNING

Take the sweet potatoes, butter it all over with mustard and in turn pack brown sugar into the mustard. Then insert whole cloves. Take slices of pineapple (thin—cut the canned slices in half) and stick these, with thin slices of red cherries, on the ham with tooth-picks (remembering to remove later).

Put the ham back in the oven for about five minutes, watching it carefully to make sure it doesn't burn, until it is glazed.

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast: Grapefruit and orange juice, shredded wheat, toast, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Scrambled eggs on enriched toast, romaine salad, corn syrup cookies, tea, milk.

Debunker

The popular idea that St. Patrick drove the snakes out of Ireland is nothing but a pleasant folklore, according to Dr. Frank Thone who states in "The Science News Letter" that scientists in the British Isles have not found a single trace of any snakes or fossils of snakes in Ireland since the Glacial Period, millions of years before the time of St. Patrick. Thus, St. Patrick never even saw a snake in Ireland, much less to drive any out, for there were none to drive out. The saying probably originated in the meaning that St. Patrick drove the devil out of Ireland, and did not really mean actual snakes at all.

McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. McKENNEY, America's Cure Authority

At several tables in the Masters Individual, the contract of four hearts on today's hand was made, but Harry Fishbein, winner of the tournament, defeated it at his table.

Duplicate—N-S vul.

South	West	North	East
1♠	2♥	Pass	Pass
3♠	4♥	Double	Pass

Opening—♠8. 20

If he made the mistake of trying to cash two spades, West would ruff the second, cash the king of trumps, come back with a club, cash three more top trumps, then run the clubs. South can ruff the last club with the master trump, but West still gets a diamond discard.

Fishbein, who sat South, cites this hand as an example of perfect partnership confidence and co-operation. It is not easy for South to give up the hand for four hearts doubled, since he may have a vulnerable game in spades, but he relied upon his partner's judgment by passing the double.

After taking one spade, Fishbein laid down the king of diamonds. North responded with the seven. Declarer false-carded with the 10, but Fishbein was on to the card another. With four of the suit, North would surely have played the lowest to discourage a continuation, as he should credit South with at least five diamonds. So Fishbein took his other diamond, and then North's trump stopper and the contract.

McCoy Health Service

The diagnosis of kidney stones is best made with the X-ray. Fortunately, most of these stones contain sufficient calcium oxalate or calcium phosphate to cast a shadow which will show up on X-ray pictures, and about 80 per cent of all kidney stones are detected in this way. Those composed chiefly of uric acid do not cause enough of a shadow to be easily recognized.

A laboratory test made of the liquid thrown out by the kidneys is also helpful in arriving at a diagnosis, as when such stones are present, the urinalysis may show the presence of red blood cells, casts, albumin, bacteria, and crystals. Sometimes, the first laboratory finding which suggests a possible stone in the kidney is the discovery in the urine of the crystals out of which these stones are formed.

One of the first symptoms of kidney stone may be a sharp, shooting pain which has been given the name of kidney stone colic. In describing the pain, the patient usually says it resembles a "hot pain." The pain is due to the kidney or the tube leading away from it, being injured as the stone seeks to escape and to make its way downward into the bladder.

Although this severe pain is characteristic of kidney stone, some patients entirely escape it, and it is truly remarkable how large a stone may remain in the kidney for years without causing any marked discomfort. It also happens occasionally that quite a large stone will suddenly pass from the kidney without causing any distress.

Kidney stones appear to be caused either by the presence of excessive amounts of uric acid or oxalic acid in the blood, or by an abnormal condition of the urine which encourages the deposit of crystals. Another cause is interference with the proper drainage of the kidney.

The stones themselves are formed of various materials which solidify and becomes masses of crystals. Some of the stones are quite soft, while others are hard enough to cut glass.

The treatment of kidney stones must necessarily vary with the individual case, as a great deal depends upon the size of the stone and also upon its hardness. In my own experience, providing the stone is small enough so there is some hope of its escaping from the kidney, I find the best plan is to start the patient on a fast. During the fast, copious water drinking is encouraged. These small stones may in some cases be caused to make their way out of the body through giving the patient plenty of fluid, as is done by fasting and water-drinking.

All questions regarding Health and Diet will be answered. Large, stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McSt., Los Angeles, Calif.

Minute Make-Ups

Save your "combings" and make a soft roll to use as a pad for your pompadour. And be sure that you brush your hair till it shines. A big spray of flowers behind the pomadour with a square of veiling tossed over it, gives you new glamour and a new "hat" in just a minute.

Graduates' Ball Is Gay Affair Tuesday

GRADUATION Ball for the graduating seniors of the University of Alberta is always the gayest and the most colorful of formal dances of the university year, and Tuesday's ball was no exception. Held this year in the Macdonald Hotel, the affair attracted more than 450 graduating students and their friends.

Spacious dining room of the hotel, the corridors and the breakfast room were crowded with the graduates who, on their convocation day, danced together as college students for the last time and said their goodbyes.

The graduates received their degrees and diplomas at the Convocation in the afternoon, and the ball was the gay conclusion to a round of parties and affairs in their honor.

Wearing their formal white graduation gowns of flowing chiffon, crepe or net, and corsages, the women guests for once all agreed as to color, for most of those present were graduates of the day. Color for the scene was supplied by the uniforms of the students in the Army, Navy and Air Force and the formal attire of the men students. A number of alumni members of the university were also present.

PATRONESSES

Patronesses of the affair were Mrs. J. C. Bowen, wife of His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor who with His Honor, was accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Ruth Bowen, and Capt. and Mrs. Alan Gillies; Mrs. William Aberhart, Mrs. Frank Ford, Mrs. J. M. MacEachern, Mrs. John MacDonald and Miss Florence E. Dodd, dean of women students. With their husbands and escorts, the patronesses were in the receiving line.

What To Do

What is the correct way to thank people for shower gifts? Natalie asks. I thanked them personally at the shower, but would like to know if I can do more than this.

Answer—It is not necessary to do any more than thank the donor—only when you receive your gifts, although a note to your hostess would be thoughtful. Of course, if you should care to, you may drop a short note of thanks to each guest at the shower. They certainly will appreciate your kindness.

You should try to entertain all the guests who were at the shower given in your honor at a luncheon

U. Of A. Convocation Highlights Term For 503 Young Graduates

Convocation Ceremonies in McDougall United Church Attract Capacity Crowd of Spectators; Many Students in Uniform

CONVOCATION exercises for 503 young men and women graduates of the University of Alberta in McDougall United church auditorium on Tuesday afternoon attracted more than 1,000 proud parents and friends assembled to witness the presentation of degrees, diplomas and prizes given in recognition of undergraduate years of study and research by the faculty.

Always a day of happy congratulation for members of the class, the day this year brought a sterner note of reality, for a goodly portion of the graduating seniors were in uniforms of the Army, Navy and Air Force. Many of the graduates, in graduation gown and mortar board and Houndie, recitations by the Misses Wiland, Osteyshek, and Ducher; club-swinging by Misses Hayden and Bjorgum; skit by Misses Barber and Smith; acrobatics by the Misses Asp, Murray, Wakowich-Melnin and Wall. Piano accompaniments were by Sister Mary Cecilia, Miss Northcot, R.N., and by Miss Watt.

Guest artists included Masters Turgeon, Miss Trottier, Miss Sambrooke, the Foster twins and the Naylor sisters.

Round of applause greeting each successful candidate was heightened and increased as the graduates in active service came forward for their degrees. Those in uniform gave tangible evidence of the place university students are taking in the Canadian war effort, and of their determination to place their talents and learning at the call of their country.

Long before the hour appointed for the commencement of the exercises, galleries and guests on floor of the auditorium were filled to overflowing.

Against a backdrop of organ music provided by Miss Helen Barbour, the ceremonies held the undivided interest of spectators throughout the afternoon. Flowering plants, hydrangea, and other spring blossoms formed a bank of green and color on the altar rail where the ceremonies took place.

ACADEMIC PROCESSION

As the organ rang out the opening notes of the stately processional the academic procession entered the church. It was headed by His Honor, J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, Chief Justice Horace Harvey, Hon. Mr. Justice Frank Ford, Chancellor of the University, and Dr. Robert Newton, president of the province; Dr. Robert Newton, president of the university; Dr. George W. Later in the evening, the congratulations and best wishes of almost fifty friends, were extended to the bridal couple at a reception.

Out of town guests who attended the ceremony were Mrs. M. Shubert of Vask, B.C., and Miss Tessie Hook of Natal, B.C.

Shubert of Bellis, Alta. Rev. J. R. Hague officiated.

Mrs. Jack Clapham was the bride's only attendant. She chose a simply tailored black dressmaker suit and soft blue accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations en corsage.

Mr. Paul Shubert attended his brother as best man.

Mrs. Shubert chose for her son's wedding a black ensemble accented with a corsage of red roses.

Enemy Prisoners Cheer Air Crash

CALGARY, May 20.—(CP)—Enemy prisoners of war being escorted to an internment camp in western Canada last week are reliably reported to have jeered and cheered when they were witnesses to the crash of an R.C.A.F. plane in which two men lost their lives in the foot hills of the Rocky mountains in Alberta. Guards were forced to threaten the prisoners with gunfire to quiten them.

The source said the prisoners broke out in riotous shouting when the plane crashed to earth.

It was also said that Calgary depot was the scene of insulting incidents by the enemy prisoners during their transport to the internment camp when they spit and shouted at persons in the station.

Lone Plane Draws Fire Vichy Guns

VICHY, May 20—(AP)—Anti-aircraft batteries around Vichy went into action early today as a lone plane of undisclosed nationality circled over the city after wave upon wave of planes had skirted north of the city flying southeast.

(The course of the planes indicated they were British craft headed for Italy.)

The planes passed over in a constant stream, after which the lone craft circled the town and caused the anti-aircraft batteries to toss five shells into the air. The plane droned on despite the fire, and then turned back to the northwest.

West's Wheat Quota Based 1941 Acreage

OTTAWA, May 20.—(CP)—Western wheat deliveries during the crop year 1942-43 will be made on the basis of the grower's 1941 authorized acreage, George McIvor, chairman of the Canadian wheat board, told the house of commons committee on agriculture yesterday.

The 1941 authorized acreage was based on 65 per cent of the grower's 1940 wheat crop.

Under the federal program for 1942-43 wheat deliveries are restricted to 280,000,000 bushels from the west.

"Until the acreage for 1942 is known and until the general pattern of the 1942 crop is established, it will be impossible to state the basis upon which wheat deliveries will be made from authorized acreages," Mr. McIvor said.

The board would have to take into consideration the acreage, production and probable marketings of feed grains and flaxseed under the 1942-43 program before per-bushel wheat delivery quotas were decided.

90 CENT PRICE

For the 280,000,00 bushels to be delivered, the wheat board will pay 90 cents a bushel for No. 1 northern, basis in store at Fort William.

Ceiling On Used Cars Clarified

OTTAWA, May 20—(CP)—Used car ceiling prices, announced recently, by the War Time Prices and Trade board, will be based on a sliding scale of depreciation which is specified in the order-in-council made public last night.

Up to six months from the date of the beginning of the model year—Oct. 1 of the year prior to that by which the vehicle is designated—the ceiling is the same as the delivered price of a new car of similar type. Over six months and not more than one year it is 95 per cent., and from one year to two years 85 per cent.

The ceiling is then reduced at the rate of 10 per cent. a year, reaching 55 per cent. in cars between four and five years old. The reduction is then at the rate of five per cent., starting with five years and up to six years, 50 per cent. and continuing to more than nine years, for which the ceiling is 30 per cent.

Child Drowns In North Farm Dam

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

FAIRVIEW, Alta., May 20.—Slipping into 10 feet of water in a dam on the farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ramsey, three and a half miles north of here, little William Wayne Ramsey, two years and nine months, was drowned last Sunday.

The tot had been playing with his two sisters and a brother when he wandered away to the dam near the farm buildings. After a search his hat was found floating on the water and the body was recovered by Mr. Ramsey at 6 p.m. on the day of the drowning.

Funeral services were held from the Church of the Nazarene at Fairview Tuesday afternoon with Rev. W. A. Peterson officiating.

Baptists Planning Annual Meeting

Annual meeting of the congregation of the First Baptist church will be held at the church at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Rev. Daniel Young will preside.

Reports of the chairmen of the working committees will be read by the retiring officials and annual election of officers will take place.

Special discussion will centre around the plans for Golden Jubilee celebrations scheduled to be held next fall.

An annual Pulitzer Prize of $1,000 is awarded for the best volume of verse by an American author.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, May 20—(AP)—A brisk rise in American Telephone on declaration of the company's regular quarterly dividend of $2.25 provided no stimulus for the stock market today and most other leaders lost a little ground. Telephone pushed up for a gain of 3 points or so.

British, French Clash Off Algiers

VICHY, May 20.—(AP)—French and British forces engaged in a brief gun battle Monday morning off Algiers in the Mediterranean, and each side lost an airplane, a government dispatch said last night.

The action was said to have started when a British plane flying off Algiers Bay was hailed by a French pursuit craft which opened fire and forced the British craft down.

Immediately, the Vichy account claimed, a British destroyer in neighboring waters opened fire with anti-aircraft guns and cannon on two French torpedo boats which, Vichy said, had been ordered out to save the British plane.

Then the torpedo boats turned their fire on the British plane and sank it, the account said.

One French plane was reported missing after British destroyers threw up a heavy anti-aircraft barrage around a French pursuit squadron which, it was claimed, came out to protect the torpedo boats.

"BOOM DAYS" AGAIN IN EVIDENCE

War Takes Alaska Back To Action-Packed Era Of '98

Territory Is Revitalized By Influx Of Workers To Rush Big Naval, Air Bases

By WILLIAM L. WORDEN

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, May 20.—(AP)—War has come to "Seward's Folly" like another gold rush. The players are different, the props are different, but the play is much the same as that of '98.

Against there are the lonesome, homesick men. Again there is money ringing on the bars of Fairbanks, Nome and Anchorage—hard money that you can bite if you like. The dance hall has given way to the nickelodeon; but the girls are the same, girls with bright mouths and laughs that are too loud.

Most of all, there are the waiting men. In the gold rush, they crowded the camps of the coast, waiting for ships, waiting for dogs, bargaining with the Indians for sleds.

WAITING AGAIN

Now they're waiting again, for ships that sail silently, for trains that run on schedules never published, most of all for planes. Planes to Nome, planes to Seward, planes that will land on snow, on lakes, or on dusty runways cut out of the valleys.

The actual military preparations for war in the territory are, of course, strictly secret. But it is no secret that the most implacable enemy that either Japanese invader or American defender would have here is the territory itself. Whether the gulf of Alaska swarms with submarines and mines is for the United States navy to know and the Japanese to find out. But no naval man minds telling them now that shipwreck lies behind every island and marine disaster along both sides of the channels. They always have.

DEEP SECRET

Similarly, the number of planes here is a deep secret; but anyone can look at a map and see the vicious peaks that bar the way to fighters, and the mists that spell wreckage for bombers. No secret is the cold of the winters of the depths of the dogs. They are the same enemies the men of '98 battled, and they're still potent.

There are many other parallels to the good rush. Then rumors sent men racing up the creeks ever after bigger strikes, easier digging.

Now the so-called Mukluk telegraph, a rumor factory without parallel, supplements the slender budget of news available to the territory through its newspapers and radios. The Mukluk has had Seattle bombed. Alaska invaded, Hitler assassinated.

Pioneers see another parallel. Men who have watched the territory for years, like Dr. Charles E. Bunnell, president of the University of Alaska, say that the tragedy of that earlier boom was that nobody intended to spend his life in Alaska. It was the lumberman's theory of cut-and-get-out carried to an extreme.

GREAT HURRY

Now workers on the naval bases and army camps labor fabulous numbers of hours—because there is a great hurry and because they can earn beyond their fondest dreams.

From a practical standpoint, the civilian problems are the same—enough food, housing, and a battle against skyrocketing prices.

War to Alaska also has meant partial paralysis of its two most important industries, fishing and mining. Neither is closed down but both are operating on a day-to-day basis.

As for civilian defence, Alaska is wide awake. Cities have made thorough blackout and air raid preparations.

But if you want to get an Alaskan mad, all you have to do is to talk about old-timers fighting off the Japanese with Winchesters and muzzle-loaders while they retreat through the mountains, living off the country.

There isn't, say the old-timers, a muzzle-loader left south of Fort Yukon; you can't live off the country and you can't get through most of the countains, no matter how hardy you may be. Besides, they say, the army can do a whale of a lot better job than any old-timer who ever lived.

City To Oppose Employees Under Insurance Act

Proposal to bring employees of civic-owned utilities within the scope of the Dominion Unemployment Insurance Act will be opposed by the city of Edmonton, Mayor John W. Fry stated Tuesday.

He stated that he would sponsor a resolution at the forthcoming annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities voicing opposition to the proposal, and seeking the continued exemption of municipal corporations and their employees from the scope of the act.

Mayor Fry will leave for Ottawa on Saturday to attend the conference. He is a member of the executive of the Federation, and will be the only city representative at the meeting.

Mayor Fry said he saw in the government's proposal the thin end of the wedge to bring all municipal employees under the scope of the Unemployment Insurance Act.

EMPLOYEES EXEMPTED

He pointed to the fact that when the Unemployment Insurance plan was adopted by the government, municipal employees were exempted after a ruling had been given by solicitors to the department of justice that the inclusion of these employees would be contrary to the provisions of the British North America Act.

Mayor Fry said the proposal now being considered would divide municipal employees into two classes, one of which would be compelled to contribute and the other would be exempt. This, he stated, would create an unnecessary and unjustifiable anomaly among government employees, of which municipal employees form a type. He added that members of the Edmonton Federation of Civic Employees were considering his resolution.

of bombing planes diverting an advancing lava wall from a city is fascinating, it does seem such an operation might well assure the safety of peoples living in the vicinity of active volcanos.

Perhaps bad floods also could be prevented by similar planned bombings.

There's sweet news now for those who may have gone a trifle sour over sugar rationing.

Some medical authorities are contending that the free use of the highly refined cane sugar has had a detrimental effect on human beings, particularly North Americans, who use more of it than any other people.

It is pointed out that the German army made extensive experiments in the use of a cane sugar as a cheap means of feeding soldiers required to do heavy muscular work. Horses, too, were used in the experiments.

The experiments showed that sugar had very remarkable sustaining qualities, but its value as a food was small because more than a small amount caused irritation of the stomach.

Other experiments of a similar kind have been made, with like results, it is contended.

All is not gold that glitters, and now, perhaps, all is not ultimately sweet that's sugary.

Northern Boats Heavily Loaded

Capacity loads are being handled by northern transport boats of the Mackenzie River Division of the Hudson's Bay Company, according to a report received Wednesday.

The S.S. Northland Echo arrived at Fitzgerald last Monday with a 300-ton barge and 75 passengers. Twenty-one of the passengers were Ryan Bros. portage contractors.

The M.S. Pelly Lake started south from Chipewyan on Tuesday, and the M.S. Beaver Lake is en route north from Waterways with barges. Both are loaded to capacity.

Engineers Join R.C.A.F. In City

Sidney Whetstone, well known head of the Whetstone Plumbing company here, has enlisted in the R.C.A.F. as a fitter.

Another man who signed with the R.C.A.F. Tuesday is David Roberts, for many years stationary engineer at a city brewing firm. He will serve as an engineer in the air force.

Mr. Roberts was a sergeant in the South Side company of the Veterans' Volunteer Reserve.

Elisa Belle has a record of 1,000 pounds of butter fat, over a sustained recording period. Other livestock, including a Holstein heifer, several pigs, horses and chickens have been donated to the cause. Grand dam of the calf's sire is Florence, owned by Martin Bros. of Edmonton and holder of the North American championship for butterfat, the yield for the cow being 1,018 pounds for a year on a twice-a-day milking. The grand dam also holds five medals.

Speed-Up System Trams Expanding

The skip-stop speed-up system being introduced by the Edmonton street railway will be in general operation Wednesday, Thomas Ferrier, street railway superintendent, stated Tuesday. The new stopping places are now in operation in the eastern section of the city, and will be in full operation in the west end by Wednesday.

Stopping places will be designated by white signs on the railway standards, and non-stop intersections by a green band painted on the standards.

On the east-west routes street cars will stop at even numbered streets and on west schedules at the odd numbered streets. Exceptions to this will be 101, 102, 103 and 104 streets, where all street cars will stop if required. There will be no stop at 110 street under the new schedule, the street cars going straight through from 109 to 112 streets.

Mr. Ferrier stated that the public had taken very kindly to the new skip-stop plan. He added that the plan had stepped up the schedules and had lightened the strain on the motormen.

He again asked for the co-operation of housewives in shopping during the off-peak hours of 9.30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Peter Shaw, miner at the Dawson mine just south of the Dawson bridge, was admitted to the Royal Alexandra hospital Tuesday suffering from a back injury, caused by an accident in the mine.

Large Volume Scrap Material Is Collected

Word was received Wednesday by Edward C. Fisher, provincial organizer of the national salvage campaign, that the Mackenzie River division of the Hudson's Bay Company will undertake immediately to collect all possible scrap materials suitable for salvage purpose in the North West Territories.

The letter to Mr. Fisher, written by D. Hutchison, manager of the Mackenzie River division, stated that the company will donate the materials to the national salvage campaign after transporting it at the company's expense to the rail head at Waterways.

Mr. Fisher has recently returned from the southern part of the province where he reports that a saving of metals and rubber has hit its full stride this month.

An estimated 100 carloads of scrap iron, steel and other metals will be shipped out of the province in May, Mr. Fisher stated. This will be supplemented by many carloads of rubber, collection of which is being stressed during this month, he said.

Mr. Fisher visited Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Drumheller, Hanna and other points and reported that in all these areas the campaign has been gaining momentum daily and is now in full swing.

At the end of April, Calgary exceeded the $10,000 mark in the value of salvage collected since the campaign began and $1,610 worth was collected in April, Mr. Fisher stated.

ANNE LAURIE is operating a four-horse stable for her ailing father, TIM LAURIE. After dismissing her trainer she is unable to find one. OLD DOC BURGESS, veterinarian who likes his bottle, and CEPHUS LINCOLN, aged Negro stable boy, help her. Anne is interested in PAT BARNES, reporter, and also likes RUSTY WALTON, who seems to be interested in wealthy BRENDA VAN EVERS. Rusty's best horse breaks its leg and he is forced to shoot it. He then accepts a job as trainer for the Van Evers stables and moves away from "poverty row" where he was Anne's neighbor. DICK COUNT, a friend of some crooks, moves in with four horses. Doc Burgess disappears and Anne receives a wire telling her Tim had a relapse. On a bunch she calls the sanatorium and finds that her father is all right and that no wire has been sent from there. Anne's horse, Moon Jade, ready for a big race, is mysteriously laxed on a $2,500 claiming race. Anne storms to the steward's office, finds Doc Burgess has entered the horse. Up to the day of the race both Rusty and Anne have been unable to find Doc, the only man who can help them get Moon Jade out of the race in which Anne may lose the horse. Moon Jade wins, is claimed by a man named Mac Pherson and returns to Dick Count's stables, Count claiming to have bought the horse from his claimer. Doc returns, explaining that thugs had locked him up, kept him supplied with liquor, and forced him to sign what he thought was a note for $800. Anne's only hope for the stakes lies in Kokoa, a horse that can run well but lugs out when he comes around the curve toward the grandstand. Rusty is doing well with the Van Evers.

CHAPTER XXV.

"I'M glad to see Rusty get a break, even if I don't seem to be having much success myself," Anne told Burgess. The old veterinarian glanced at her from under his shaggy brows.

"You're pretty strong for the lad, aren't you?" he commented.

"Well, I don't know—I like him pretty well, yes. And you know when I first met him, I thought he was insufferable. He acted like a smart aleck, and if there's anything in the world I can't stand that's it."

"He's a good boy. I told you that the first day you met him, but you seemed to have other ideas. If only I had been able to save Red Cloud for him—"

"It would have made a difference, wouldn't it? Rusty would have stayed on Poverty Row, and—"

"And he wouldn't be spending so much time with that Brenda gal. She kinda gets under your hide a bit, doesn't she?"

"Well—" Anne hesitated. "I don't think she's the right girl for Rusty if that's what you mean. All of this—" she waved her hands—"is just a novelty to her. Pretty soon, she'll be interested in something else, and you know as well as I do that Rusty's only interested in horses."

BIT FLIGHTY

"I think maybe you're wrong there, Anne," Burgess said, seriously. "I think she's really fallen for Rusty. She may be a bit on the flighty side, but all you've got to do is to see the way she looks at him to know she ain't fooling about that. It's tough luck for you."

"I guess I can take it. I've taken a lot so far, and it looks like the worst is yet to come."

"Tell me, lassie, you're really gone on Rusty, isn't that it?"

"Well, I guess I am, but a lot of good it does me. He's fallen for Brenda and that lets me out. She's got everything I haven't got—money, position, background. My background is a stable."

"It could be a lot worse than that, too," Doc said, stoutly. "There's some pretty fine people connected with racing—some of the finest you'd ever care to meet."

"Sure, I know, but what's the use of talking about it? I know when I'm outclassed. Looks to me like Rusty might win the stake with Van Evers' Sky Writer and that Brenda's going to walk off with him."

"Maybe so, and maybe not."

"What do you mean?"

"There's an old racetrack saying—a favorite of Tim's, by the way—that you're never licked till the numbers go up on the board."

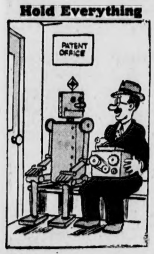

"But what possible chance have I?"

"You're sound of wind and limb and you've got a horse entered in the big race, haven't you?"

"You mean Kokoa, of course."

"Sure—why not? You know he's the fastest bangtail on the track. If we can keep him out of the grandstand, he'll murder Sky Writer and those other dogs."

"Hold Everything"

"What did you invent?"

"Laff-A-Day"

"Can you please tell me if today's my wife's birthday . . . or tomorrow?"

Brand New Pup Needs Best of Care Depends on You

Do you know how to repay puppy love? Is that brand-new, sleepy-eyed, wet-nosed ball of fluff dependent on your care for his well-being? Then see that he gets the right care.

Puppies are as helpless as babies. They, too, get sick, often fatally, from wrong food or exposure. They, too, are naughty as a result of wrong training.

See that your puppy has warm but well-ventilated quarters and warm (but not hot) food. Also give raw or cooked meat daily, as well as milk, from the time he's three weeks old.

In housebreaking, take him outside five minutes to an hour after he eats. But not in places where dogs with distemper have been.

Such simple care is about all a little dog needs to keep him happy. But at four months you'll want to start training him to obey commands.

Our 32-page booklet shows how to train a dog to be obedient and do clever tricks. Tells food dogs may eat; how to housebreak them, groom them. Gives symptoms and treatment of common dog ailments, including distemper; also how many ailments may be avoided.

Send 15 cents in coins for your copy of "How to Choose and Care for your Dog," to The Edmonton Bulletin Home Service department, 69, Front Street West, Toronto, Ontario. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet

Hitler Now Struggles To Keep Up With Allied Production Of Arms

How many tanks has Germany? How many planes? How many submarines? How fast can she replace them? Here Edwin Shanke of the former Berlin bureau of the Associated Press discloses the Nazis' struggle to keep up the battle of production. After five months' internment in Germany, Shanke is in Lisbon through an exchange of Axis and American Nationals.—EDITOR.

By EDWIN SHANKE

LISBON, May 20.—(AP)—Hitler's problem no longer is one of staying ahead of the Allies' war output. Now he has a struggle to keep up with it.

Five serious bottlenecks stand in his way—the chronic and growing shortage of raw materials, sabotage and lack of manpower, transportation and electric power.

An estimate by a source with access to reliable information has put Germany's airplane production potential at between 2,200 and 2,500 planes a month. Her total of planes is believed to have risen from about 10,000 when the war started to about 23,000 now.

Yet the need for airplanes grew so urgent last fall that factories were ordered to the eastern front all planes reserved for testing and experimentation. Aircraft engineers who had been working on new designs were instructed to concentrate on building production.

From one plant alone, it was said, one of every four engines was being turned back for overhauling, after only a few flights.

Submarines slid from the ways at a rate estimated at 15 to 18 a month. But Germany is not building capital ships because, say naval officers, she cannot and still keep up other needed naval building.

Her only aircraft carrier, the Graf Zeppelin, is said to be lying in Gotenhafen Harbor only 80 per cent completed.

With unlimited manpower and raw material resources, naval experts believe, Germany could produce 25 to 28 U-boats a month.

There are no reliable estimates on tank production but Nazi difficulties are indicated by the fact two tank divisions, camouflaged with desert yellow for Africa, had to be repainted overnight and sent east last fall at the height of the 1941 campaign in Russia.

The windfalls of booty from conquered countries helped in the first two years. Now, however, vital tin is being scraped almost to the bottom, the loot from the Ukraine admittedly will not be available this year and the entry of United States into the war along with the Allies unexpected economic support have pushed the Nazis' production to the limit.

There is no way to determine just how hard sabotage has hit the German war plant or German war production.

However, there are clues. New decrees have threatened even death for false reports on raw materials, labor reserves or needs in manpower or supplies to fill war contracts.

Gestapo guards watch every vital factory, every bridge, waterworks, gas and electric plant. Gestapo troubleshooters are posted in apartment buildings and stores as a precaution throughout German cities.

Workmen, especially foreigners, are watched closely in factories. Still, at least 1,000,000 shells shipped from Czechoslakia on the Russian front were reported to have been duds.

Three Hundred Delegates At Church Meeting

Three hundred delegates attended opening sessions of the 18th meeting of the Alberta conference of the United Church of Canada, Wednesday morning. The conference is being held in McDougall United church, and will continue through Monday of next week.

Among delegates is Rev. Dr. W. L. Armstrong, minister of McDougall United Church from 1913 to 1917, who is now minister of an eastern Canadian church. Delegates have come from all parts of Alberta.

Wednesday night an address will be given by the moderator, rt. Rev. A. S. Tuttle, M.A., D.D. LL.D. and there will be music by the choirs of Metropolitan, Robertson and Wesley churches. A reception will be held in honor of the moderator following the evening session.

Permit Necessary To Carry Passengers

Warning is given to all drivers of motor trucks — with only one exception — that under the new regulations of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board governing motor transport, it is illegal to carry passengers unless the driver is in possession of a permit from the Regional Director of Highway Transport.

It makes no difference whether the owner is the driver, whether the passengers are his family or employes, whether they are carried for payment or free, or even if they are being transported to and from work.

The only trucks which are exempt from this order are those which carry livestock, when the owner of the livestock are carried in the cab, provided that any provincial regulations are complied with.

Truck drivers who wish to apply to the Regional Director of Highway Transport, Williamson Building, Edmonton, requesting a permit to carry passengers, must give the make, model, type, serial number and license number of the truck, and the name and address of the owner. The application must also state whether the owner has a passenger car, or not, and give complete information as to what the permit is required to cover. No permit can be issued unless full information on these points is furnished.

Salvage Materials Are Arriving Here

Progress of organized campaigning for salvage materials in villages and surrounding rural communities in Northern Alberta is beginning to show itself in the shipments that have begun arriving in Edmonton, Edward C. Fisher, provincial organizer of the national salvage campaign, stated Wednesday.

Five truck loads of scrap steel and other metal arrived here from Ponoka and a gondola carload reached the city from Bruce. Mr. Fisher stated. The five truck loads from Ponoka will easily fill a large car. Bruce is a small village on the C.N.R. line between Holden and Viking.

Traffic Accidents Reported To Police

Only two traffic accidents were reported to city traffic police during the past two days. Both occurred Tuesday evening.

The auto driven by S. M. Greene, Suite A, McDonald apartments, was damaged to the extent of about $50 when Greene collided with Reinhard Forster, R.R. 4, Calmar, at the intersection of 99 avenue and 110 street. Forster's car came out of the crash with a crumpled right fender and a damaged bumper. The left side of Greene's car was damaged.

In the other accident at the intersection of 99 street and 102 avenue, both cars received crumpled fenders.

Four Months' Term Stealing Watch

Found guilty of stealing a wrist watch from a "girl friend," George Entzminger was sentenced to four months' imprisonment by Police Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., Wednesday forenoon.

While sitting in a cafe booth with his friend, Entzminger asked permission to look at her watch. He then refused to return it in spite of numerous pleas on the part of the girl. After he failed to return the following day, as he had promised, the charge was laid. He has a previous record.

Three women were convicted during the morning sittings. Muriel Eva Leslie, pleading guilty to two charges was sentenced to 30 days on the charge of vagrancy and was fined $20 and costs or 30 days on a charge of illegal posession of liquor. The charges are to run concurrently.

The application must also state whether the owner has a passenger car, or not, and give complete information as to what the permit is required to cover. No permit can be issued unless full information on these points is furnished.

Nurse Praises Service Given By Red Cross

ing school and was founded by Dr. Anita Hamilton, daughter of a French woman and an Irish doctor. Dr. Hamilton was the founder of the Visiting Nurses' organization.

HAD OWN AMBULANCE

From Bordeaux she went to the Mobile Numero 1 Chirurgical at Adinkerke in Belgium. The unit had its own Red Cross ambulance owned by the French Red Cross. It was staffed by British drivers.

She served throughout 1916 and 1917 until she was wounded. She was taken from Adinkerke by a British-manned French ambulance 30 miles, to Dunkirk, where a French train carrying British nurses and doctors took her to Paris. At the station, a Canadian ambulance, manned by Canadians took her to the American hospital, where she was treated. She had lost a foot while serving under fire.

Her first visitor in the Adinkerke hospital after her injury was the Duke of Athlone, now Governor-General of Canada. Later Queen Elizabeth, wife of Albert, King of the Belgians, sent the head nurse from her villa to bring Mrs. Morrison to her convalescence hospital at Lapanne. It had been decided previously to transfer her to Paris.

BACK TO CANADA

Mrs. Morrison was invalided back to Canada. When she had recovered sufficiently to travel, she immediately "signed up" again with the American Red Cross and served with its speakers' bureau in New York, through 1918 and 1919, making appeals for the Victory Loan, the recruiting of nurses and the peace-time program.

At Bordeaux she worked with nurses from Britain, the Empire, and the United States.

Even after hostilities ceased, the Red Cross nurses continued their work in the alleviation of suffering, and one of those with whom she served, Sister Margaret, worked right through until the outbreak of war in September, 1939. Sister Margaret was in Paris at the time of the capitulation and is now a prisoner-of-war. Mrs. Morrison and Sister Margaret had been roommates in one of the hospitals.

AIDED DE GAULLE

Another nurse, who acted as matron of one of the hospitals is the wife of Brig. Speers, who was directly responsible for the escape of the Free French leader, General Charles de Gaulle, from Bordeaux.

"The Red Cross nurses, will, I know, continue to act wherever they are needed, long after hostilities have ceased," Mrs. Morrison said.

Students Recall Dean E. A. Howes

In memory of their late dean of agriculture at the University of Alberta, old graduates of the department of agriculture, now spread to the four corners of the earth, presented to the university a marble plaque of Dean E. A. Howes, who died two years ago.

Dean Howes was dean of the faculty of agriculture for 25 years, during which time he took a keen interest in educational matters, in sports and in writing. He wrote a book entitled "With a Glance Backward," which was published shortly before his death.

The presentation was made to President Robert Newton at the annual Convocation tea in Convocation hall, Tuesday afternoon.

Small Shortage Of Farm Workers

While thee is a slight shortage of farm workers here, there is nothing to worry about in the situation, it was reported Tuesday by officials of the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

There are fairly heavy orders for placements of male and female workers and about 200 have been sent out to jobs weekly, it was stated. Of these, between 60 and 80 are women, and many are now doing work formerly done by men who have now joined the armed forces.

Other placements include those for work on northern transportation services, mines, construction projects and lumber or bush camps.

Dutch Spirit Undefeated, People Awaiting Revenge Speaker Avers

The people of Holland have displayed courage to an incredible degree in the face of the invader, and that invasion has achieved unity among the people and an unconquerable spirit that refuses to accept defeat, Dr. Benedictus H. Sajet, noted Dutch doctor and lecturer, told an audience in McDougall church Tuesday evening.

He was speaking under the auspices of the Navy League of Canada. Proceeds of the meeting will be devoted to supplying comforts for men of the Merchant Marine.

Frank Pike, former manager of the Bank of Montreal, was chairman of the meeting. Introducing the speaker, Mr. Pike said it was fitting that Dr. Sajet, who himself had served the Allied cause as a ship's doctor in the Dutch navy, was assisting in the work of helping the men who go down to the sea in ships.

TERRORS BACKFIRED

Describing conditions in Holland since the capitulation, Dr. Sajet said that neither kindness from the Nazis nor their brutish cruelties have won the co-operation of the people of Holland. Their terrors have backfired, and have resulted in a system of sabotage, carefully concealed, but nevertheless potent and of great assistance to the Allied cause.

He told of the passive resistance of the people, which, he said, had resulted in the ascendency of the Dutch over their conquerors. "We in Holland do not look on the Germans as our conquerors. We hate them with a hatred that will not be satisfied until we have beaten them from, and purged the land of their brutishness.

"The Dutch people do not speak of the day of liberation, but of their "haichet day". "This is the day when they will turn on the German tyrants and on the Dutch quislings to revenge themselves for the defilement of the country and its people and for the beirayal by its traitors," he stated.

SEED OF HATE

"The Germans have sown the seeds of bitter hatred in the hearts of all Dutch men and women. The people of my country are ready to die so that liberty and freedom may regain its lirtre meaning. We wait with courage and fortitude for the day when, as we did in 1586, when the Spanish overran our country, we can with freemen throughout the world rise and strike down the enemy in our midst."

"And while awaiting for that day we shall have faith and courage to carry on, confident in our destiny and the destiny of all the nations of freemen everywhere," he concluded.

At the conclusion of his speech H. J. Wilde, organist, played the Dutch national anthem, and Dr. Sajet was visibly affected when Dutch nationals resident in Edmonton sang the anthem. Later he was presented to his fellow countrymen by Mr. Pike and other members of the Navy League committee.
